Welcome

to the 2024 Indianapolis Home Show

Back for its 102nd year, the Indianapolis Home Show is an Indiana tradition and the oldest home show in North America, offering the latest in decorating, landscaping, construction and remodeling ideas. Visitors to the Indianapolis Home Show can talk to hundreds of home and décor experts for advice and explore thousands of the newest home products!

Davis Homes returns to build its 10th Centerpiece Home in 20 years. For this year's Centerpiece Home, Davis Homes showcases its Eastland floorplan with a Craftsman exterior design. This one-story, 1,955-square-foot home has three bedrooms, two bathrooms, a room that can be used as an office or library and a 583-square-foot garage space along with a recessed front porch. Home Show attendees will enter an intimate foyer that leads to a gourmet kitchen and then flows into an open gathering room with a fireplace.

This ranch-style home is geared toward families, those looking to downsize and those looking to age into a home. Its warm tone exterior is brick with natural cedar accents and black windows that add to the Craftsman aura. There are many textural elements and thoughtfully-placed wow moments throughout the home.

The Centerpiece Home's interior design is by Greg Riley and Ann Walker of Model Home Interiors, who are partnering with Davis Homes on an interior design concept focused on earthy elegance.

"The essence of our home design draws from the classic Craftsman style, evoking an uncomplicated yet elegant charm," Riley said. "Throughout the space, the selection of finishes, fabrics and decor demonstrates the versatility and richness this design aesthetic brings."

The color palette features soothing tones, such as muted greens, soft whites, bold blacks and warm neutrals, and is thoughtfully paired with a variety of textures both inside and outside the house. Neutrals and wood tones with touches of gold in the hardware and fixtures reflect an eclectic merging of earthiness and sophistication.

"Filled with the latest trending textures, finishes and amenities, the Centerpiece Home showcases our commitment to providing affordable luxury in Central Indiana," said Davis Homes President and CEO Brad Davis. "This project represents our 10th Centerpiece Home in the last two decades, and we take immense pride in the elegant yet efficient floorplan we've crafted."

JMT Landscape Group created and customized the landscaping for the Centerpiece Home, designing and building both the hardscape and landscape elements.

"We're featuring a lot of different ways for how to show off the backyard — from modern and contemporary to natural and traditional," said JMT Landscape Designer Principal Tyler Schnell. "Plus, there is a pool, grill island with a roofed structure and a bar island with a louvered pergola. We want Home Show visitors to see that no matter what kind of home they have, they have options for how to style their landscape."

In Expo Hall, interior designer Nina Klemm is showing off the latest trends for interior design and home décor in a custom designer room from her brand, Sleek by Nina K.

"The concept of this space is to showcase two distinct design styles: a sleek and modern aesthetic versus a blend of Hollywood glamour with a dash of mid-century modern," Klemm said. "My aim is to inspire people to be bold in their design choices while still finding comfort in the art of mixing styles into their own living spaces."

Also, Precision Outdoors is tapping into the trend of thermotherapy through the construction of a cedar hot sauna and cold plunge suite, creating a refreshing mix of temperatures in its Backyard Oasis in West Pavilion. The feature also includes a pickleball court — and instructors will be on site at the show to give attendees playing tips and ideas for how to have fun on their own home court.

"People are looking for backyard features that reflect what they like to do for fitness and fun," said Precision Outdoors Managing Partner Caleb Harbert. "They're the inspiration for this year's backyard design, so we're excited for them to see this."

Have you found yourself doing another home renovation project and forget that all-important step of ordering a dumpster? Brandie Price created Funky Junk Dumpsters, delivering dumpsters great for DIY projects, remodeling, downsizing and moving. Meet Brandie at the Declutter Your Home feature in Expo Hall and learn how to reveal a space you truly love beneath all the clutter.

Then, head to The Marketplace in West Pavilion, where Amy's Creations and The Artisan Markets offer a boutique shopping experience — with everything from curated home décor and furniture to clothing, gift items and accessories. And check out the Precision Outdoors Living Stage with presentations highlighting furniture and design trends, building your dream backyard, finding peace and calm at home, updating your home with changes that won't break the bank, and so much more!

Plus, this year's celebrity guests include HGTV stars Leslie Davis and Lyndsay Lamb from "Unsellable Houses" and Magnolia Network Host Jeff Devlin. There's something for everyone to enjoy!

Davis Homes returns to build 10th Centerpiece Home in 20 years

“Building the 2024 Centerpiece Home is a tremendous honor for all of us at Davis Homes,” said Davis Homes President and CEO Brad Davis. “This remarkable project represents our 10th Centerpiece Home in the last two decades, and we take immense pride in the elegant yet efficient floorplan we’ve crafted.”

For this year’s Centerpiece Home, Davis Homes showcases its Eastland floorplan with a Craftsman exterior design.

This one-story, 1,955-square-foot home has three bedrooms, two bathrooms, a room that can be used as an office or library and a 583-square-foot garage space along with a recessed front porch. The dining nook looks out onto the elegant outdoor patio, complete with a pool and firepit. The primary suite also looks out onto the patio and includes a simple

This ranch-style home is geared toward families, those looking to downsize and those looking to age into a home. Centerpiece Home Interior Reflects Earthy Elegance with Clean Lines and Upscale Touches

Home offers a warm, comfortable feeling combined with sophistication

This year's Centerpiece Home built by Davis Homes offers a fresh, eye-catching elevation featuring multiple materials — stone, brick and wood — that add depth, texture and dimension. The Centerpiece Home's interior design is by Greg Riley and Ann Walker of Model Home Interiors, an award-winning design firm doing work in 27 states, including Indiana. Riley and Walker partner with Davis Homes on an interior design concept for the Centerpiece Home focused on earthy elegance.

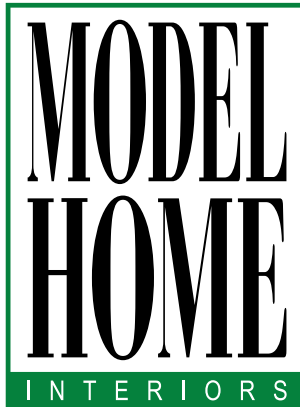

“The essence of our home design draws from the classic Craftsman style, evoking an uncomplicated yet elegant charm,” Riley said. “Throughout the space, the selection of finishes, fabrics and decor demonstrates the versatility and richness this design aesthetic brings.”

With clean line transitions and upscale pieces and touches, the Centerpiece Home offers a warm, comfortable feeling that doesn't feel out of reach for Home Show visitors.

“We want Home Show attendees to visualize themselves and their things inside this home,” Riley said. Many areas of the home showcase rich colors, but there are also lighter colors used to bring out the generous light throughout the rooms.

“We've harnessed the abundant natural light from the expansive windows, allowing it to accentuate the grandeur of the coffered ceiling in the great room and the tray ceiling in the primary suite,” Riley said.

The color palette features soothing tones, such as muted greens, soft whites, bold blacks and warm neutrals, and is thoughtfully paired with a variety of textures both inside and outside the house. Neutrals and wood tones with touches of gold in the hardware and fixtures reflect an eclectic merging of earthiness and sophistication.

“These colors and textures come to life against the clean lines of the timeless Craftsman home, uniting elegant simplicity with modern functionality,” Riley said.

The Centerpiece Home is located in Exposition Hall at the 2024 Indianapolis Home Show.

JMT Landscape Offers Variety of Options to Show Off Your Backyard

Visitors to the Centerpiece Home will see what is possible for your landscape

“No matter what kind of home you have, there are so many different styles you can choose from for your landscape,” said JMT Landscape Designer Principal Tyler Schnell.

structure and herringbone paver inlay, a bar island with a louvered pergola and a pool with bubblers.

JMT Landscape Group in Greenwood is the landscaping designer for this year’s Centerpiece Home — designing and building both the hardscape and landscape elements — and Home Show visitors will have every motivation to visit the backyard when walking through the home.

“We wanted to make this backyard feel enclosed and very private,” Schnell said. “That way, visitors will have to go in and out of the Centerpiece Home in order to view the backyard. And we’re going to show a lot of different options for what can be done in the backyard.”

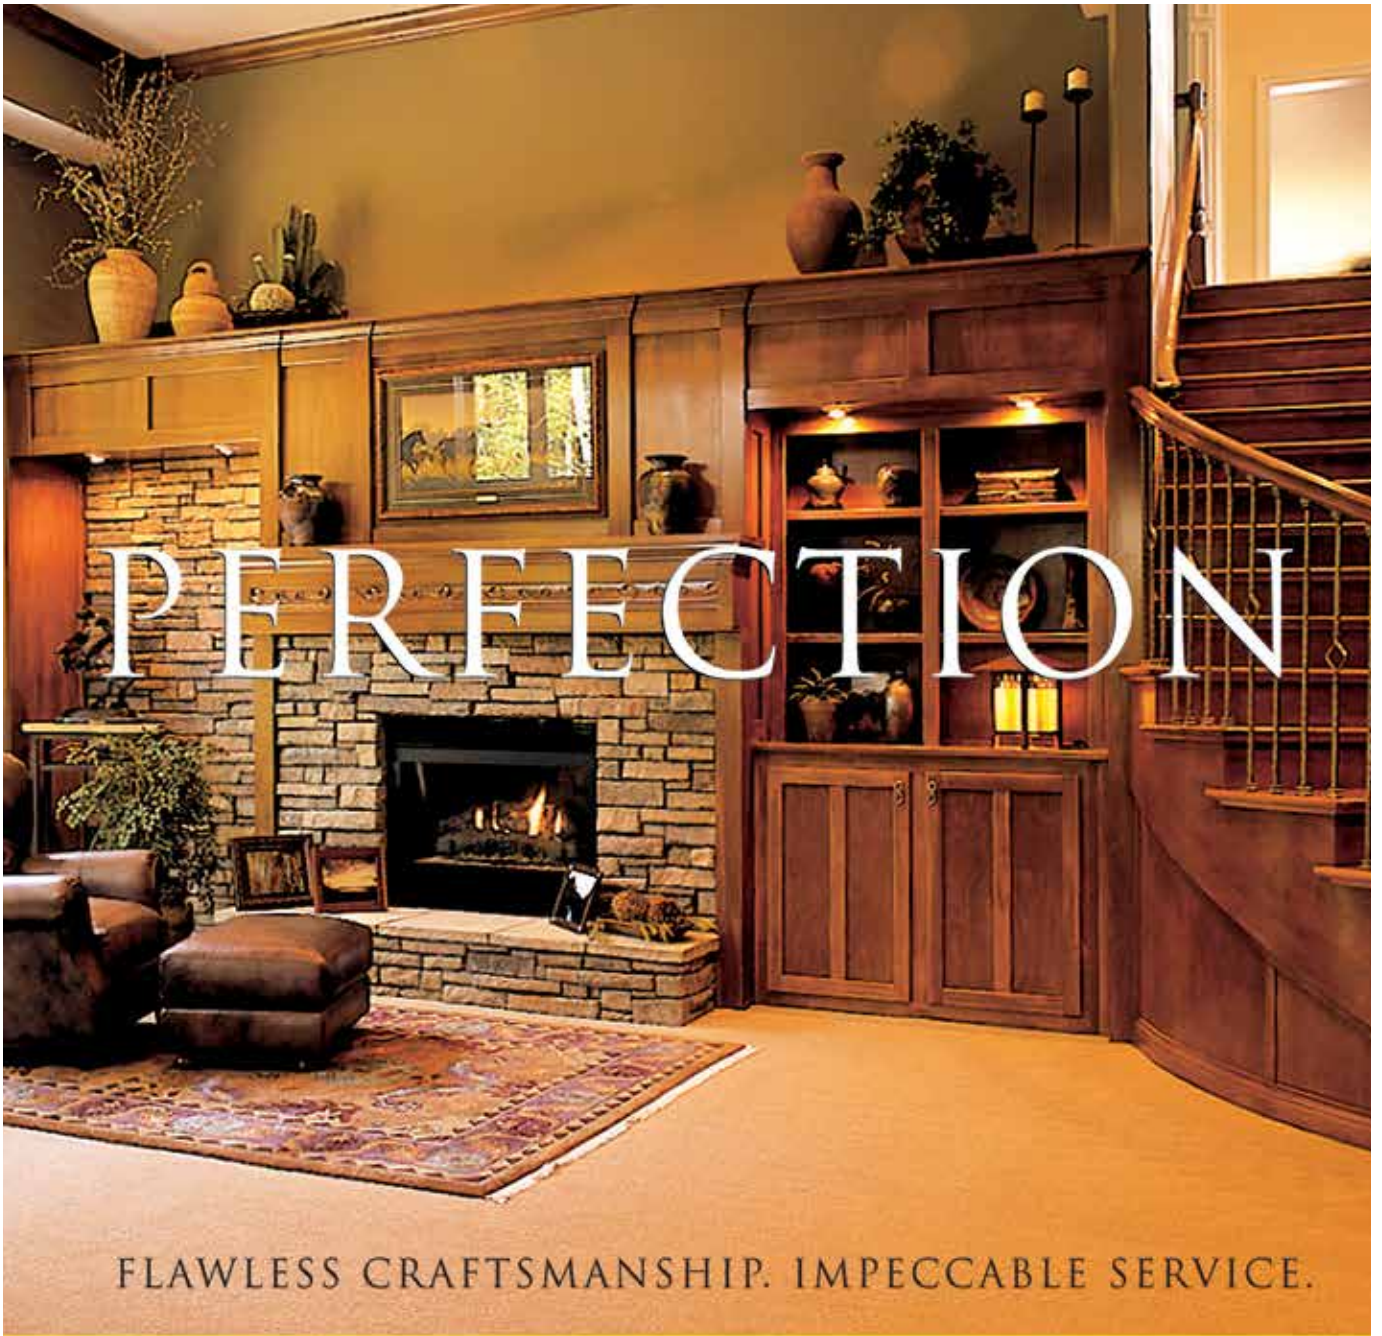

Evergreens, boxwoods and ornamental grasses join the white and soft greens of birch trees and a natural stone patio. The backyard will also offer visitors a variety of hardscape options, including a grill island with a roofed

“There will also be floating steps around the pool and a fire pit with a natural stone patio,” Schnell said. “Backyard patios are an extension of your home’s living space — offering a place where you can relax in the open air, cook, dine and entertain.”

Schnell said the Centerpiece Home landscaping features a lot of different ways for how to show off the backyard — from modern and contemporary to natural and traditional.

“We want Home Show visitors to see what is possible in their backyard or with the landscaping around their home,” he said. “We want to show off all the different options out there so visitors can get an idea of what they might like to see at their own home.”

Sister Fun Meets Style Meets Business with “Unsellable Houses”

Twin sisters of HGTV’s “Unsellable Houses” offer home design and style tips

Real estate consultants and twin sisters Leslie Davis and Lyndsay Lamb have a knack for helping desperate homeowners sell their lifeless homes on the HGTV show “Unsellable Houses.” After visiting nearby comparable homes, the sisters make the necessary, impactful renovations that convert these unlovable houses into diamonds in the rough.

After building PNW-based Lamb & Co., into a successful, full-service real estate and home design company, word of the twins’ talent and exuberant characters spread around the entertainment industry.

Leslie and Lyndsay soon landed the incredible opportunity to have their own HGTV show — “Unsellable Houses.” The sisters’ talent for helping homeowners sell their “unsellable” homes shone brightly on the big screen, helping them quickly become go-to experts for homeowners, designers and DIYers around the nation.

What is an unsellable home? “It’s any house that’s not selling at its top potential value,” Davis and Lamb said. “Sometimes that means it’s one that’s been on the market longer than average without seeing any bites. More often, it means a home that hasn’t been given the time and attention needed to really max out its sale value.”

The twins invest their own money into that unsellable house and make it attractive to buyers — addressing kitchens, bathrooms, color choices and home décor.

“Unsellable Houses,” which attracted more than 27 million viewers during its first season, follows Lyndsay, an expert in home renovation, design and staging, and Leslie, an expert in budget and negotiations, as they transform stagnant listings into hot properties. With the confidence they can sell any house for a profit, the pair invests their time and know-how to turn lackluster homes into beautiful spaces with functional design that are sure to fly off the market.

Catch Lyndsay and Leslie when they appear at the Home Show on Friday, January 19 and Saturday, January 20 — and learn how to find potential in your home in unexpected places!

Magnolia Network Host Jeff Devlin is Mr. Fix-It Extraordinaire

Host of “Stone House Revival” shares love of carpentry and craftsmanship

Jeff Devlin is the go-to guy when it comes to custom woodworking and turning historic structures into modern living spaces while keeping their character, craftsmanship and beauty. With more than 20 years in the professional carpentry business, Jeff’s passion and dedication, along with his natural ability to entertain those around him with humor, honesty and a smile, led him to the world of television.

In addition to his TV experience, Jeff has remained very hands-on behind the scenes splitting his passions — the first being “SchoolHouse Woodworking,” a custom woodworking company that delivers on the promise of excellence and focuses on hand-cut joinery and historic methods of building, from farm tables to custom cabinetry. The second is his retail store named “Sycamore & Stone Farm,” specializing in handcrafted, local items, and located in an old 1735 Pennsylvania Stone Bank Barn.

Jeff has many years and numerous shows under his belt for HGTV, DIY Network & Magnolia Network, including “I Hate My Bath,” “Ellen’s Design Challenge,” “In With the Old” and “Stone House Revival.” And still Jeff remains grounded and passionate about character, integrity and quality.

“Since I was 15, I dreamed of being a carpenter and contractor, and my television career sort of fell in my lap,” Jeff said. “I guess my love of teaching, inspiring folks and talking finally paid off. I’ve been lucky to work on many different shows through the years, but the true turning point came when my passion for historic renovation collided with my TV career, and ‘Stone House Revival’ was born. It’s been amazing to see the public’s response to the show, and their level of appreciation for quality and integrity is extremely rewarding.”

Jeff’s love for fixing things and his hard-earned experience perfecting his craft has led him to independently accomplish the complete renovation of two historic Pennsylvania farmhouses — one of which is the current house of his dreams, a 250-year-old stone farmhouse. He shares this labor of love with two children, Reese and Aidan; Gretel, a St. Bernard; and a handful of chickens.

Meet Jeff at the Home Show on Friday, January 26 and Saturday, January 27, when he’ll be presenting “3 Pro Tips to Ensure Your Project is Successful.” Learn some great tips and tricks — plus, you won’t want to miss his live demos!

Interior Designer Nina Klemm Creates Stunning Designs with Sleek by Nina K

Brand merges Klemm's expertise in interiors, real estate and fashion

A versatile expert in interior design, real estate, staging and fashion, Nina Klemm merges her expertise to create stunning designs through her brand, Sleek by Nina K.

Former star on Bravo's "Flipping Exes," flipping properties in and around Carmel, Nina moved into the interior design industry with Sleek by Nina K, where she creates stunning designs that captivate. With an innate ability to anticipate design trends and a commitment to excellence, Nina's unmatched taste has captivated a devoted clientele who trust her to transform their homes into stunning showcases of modern design.

Nina's journey into the fashion industry started in Boston, where she began her career as a fashion stylist. Over time, she climbed the ladder and took on executive positions with various national retailers. Eventually, she decided to venture out on her own and established C Reality, a highly successful menswear line in Boston. In 2007, Nina embarked on a new journey in the real estate market here in Indiana, where she combined her passion for people with her love for design.

Nina successfully flipped homes in Indianapolis starting in 2015. Her projects caught the attention of Bravo TV, and her show, "Flipping Exes," premiered in the summer of 2019. Nina made a bold move into the interior design industry with her own company, Sleek by Nina K, in 2020. Her business includes an online furniture store (houseofsleek.com) and offers a wide range of design services.

At the Home Show, Nina is showing off the latest trends for interior design and home décor in a custom designer room from Sleek by Nina K.

Revamp Your Home with Funky Junk Dumpsters

DIY decluttering made easy with accessible dumpsters

Have you found yourself doing another home renovation project and seem to forget that all-important step of ordering a dumpster? Brandie Price has experienced this problem time after time — enough to start her own company to make dumpster rental easier and more available!

When Brandie and her husband were remodeling their home in 2018, the only available dumpsters were commercial size that created parking problems and even cracked some of the driveways they were delivered to. These issues inspired Brandie to think about how it could be done differently — inspiring Funky Junk Dumpsters.

Funky Junk Dumpsters is a dumpster delivery service company with same-day and next-day availability, offering dumpsters great for DIY projects, remodeling, decluttering, downsizing and moving.

Funky Junk Dumpsters

There are multiple sizes and styles to fit your needs, and ordering your own Funky Junk Dumpster is as easy as ordering online or calling to book. You can even send photos to Brandie, and she will help choose the perfect size dumpster for your project!

“I love being able to talk through projects with people,” Brandie said. “A dumpster is the necessary evil everybody thinks about last.” Having a background in celebrity styling and hair and makeup, Brandie has always loved helping women feel confident and “take out the trash mentally.” And now through Funky Junk Dumpsters, she’s helping others take out the trash physically.

“You can maximize your space in your current season of life by letting the past go,” she said. “Decluttering gives you the opportunity to focus on the future — both mentally and physically.”

Need to prioritize and organize your space but the thought of doing it just overwhelms you? Brandie Price with Funky Junk Dumpsters invites you to the Declutter Your Home feature in Expo Hall. Plus, Brandie will appear on stage on Saturday, January 20 and Sunday, January 21, sharing tips and tricks to reveal a space you can truly love beneath all the clutter.

Precision Outdoors Heats Up and Cools Down with Backyard Oasis

Family-owned and operated since 2000, Precision Outdoors is proud to present a backyard unlike any seen before at the Home Show. However, it is familiar to the landscaping company's Managing Partner Caleb Harbert, as it features an amenity he built behind his own home.

Precision Outdoors is tapping into the trend of thermotherapy through the construction of a cedar hot sauna and cold plunge suite, creating a refreshing mix of temperatures befitting a "backyard oasis." The cap covering the cold plunge reservoir also serves as additional seating in the suite.

Whether you're looking to relax or improve your physical health, sweating away your stress in the sauna and then chilling in the cold plunge provides a revitalizing experience.

"I love saunas and cold plunges, so I built one for myself, and I'm excited to show this one to others," Harbert said. "This is the number one backyard amenity for luxury residences right now."

Precision Outdoors is also picking up on America's fastest-growing sport by including a pickleball court in its outdoor oasis. (Similar to tennis, this sport saw a 113% increase in participation between 2020 and 2022, according to a 2023 report from the Sports & Fitness Industry Association.) Pickleball instructors will be onsite at the show to give attendees playing tips and ideas for how to have fun on their own home court.

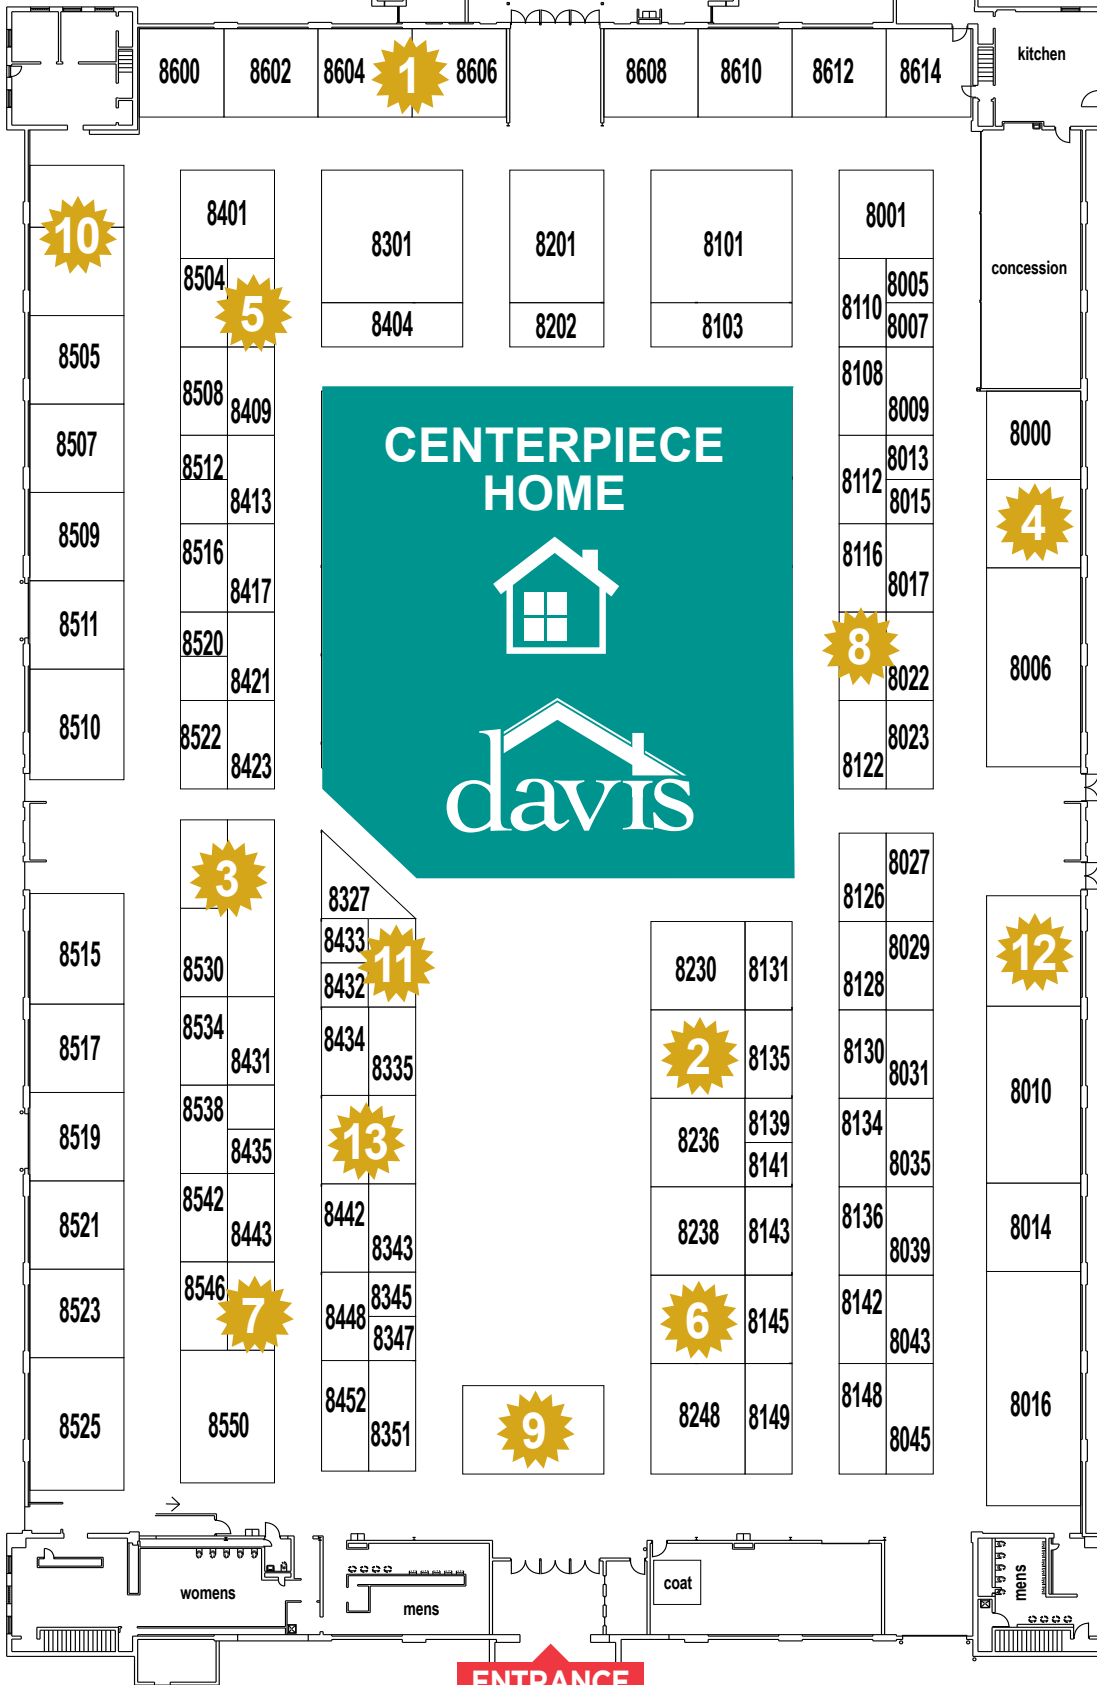

"People are looking for backyard features that reflect what they like to do for fitness and fun," Harbert said. "They're the inspiration for this year's backyard design, so we're excited for them to see this. We're getting it all decked it, and it's really cool."

The Backyard Oasis is located in West Pavilion at the 2024 Indianapolis Home Show. Check out all the presentations on the Precision Outdoors Living Stage, open for the entire 10-day Home Show.

Why Limit Happy to Just an Hour?

The Wine Bar offers the perfect combination of home renovation and relaxation

The Wine Bar by Booher Remodeling and PRP Wine International is back at the Indianapolis Home Show inside the West Pavilion! If you need a place to sip back and relax in the midst of shopping and getting your next home project inspiration, stop by for a sample.

The Wine Bar is in its fifth year of providing an everlasting happy hour at the Indianapolis Home Show, giving out samples of their best and favorite wines. “We will have about 20 different wines to sample with a great variety,” said Craig Anderson of PRP Wine International. All the bottles in the booth are available for samples only.

Booher Remodeling always does a unique remodel of the layout of The Wine Bar. “We try to mix up the decor each year with different flooring, countertops and tables,” said Rob Booher, president of Booher Remodeling. “The initial planning takes about one to two months to finalize the layout and details.”

So what’s trending this year? “Bold colors and patterns are becoming popular because more people are planning to stay in their homes longer due to higher home prices,” Booher said. “And light, natural wood cabinet colors are also in.”

Since 2001, Booher Remodeling Company has delivered quality remodeling services to the residents of Indianapolis and surrounding areas. From starting out as small-business owners working from home, Rob and Kathi Booher have always been committed to upholding the company’s mission statement. Experience expert advice on the Precision Outdoors Living Stage

Pick up on what's popular right now and gather some ideas for your own property by attending the Home Show presentations on the Precision Outdoors Living Stage, designed and constructed by Precision Outdoors. Family-owned and operated since 2000, Precision Outdoors delivers high-quality landscape design and build services to the residents of Indianapolis and surrounding areas. Managing Partner Caleb Harbert said the stage area will not only serve as a great learning hub but will stand on its own as a visually dazzling space.

Like last year, the stage space will include composite decking from Deckorators, surrounded by lush greenery. In addition to the Home Show's expert guests across various fields of home design, Precision Outdoors will take to the stage for four live learning opportunities about perfecting your outdoor living space. First up is "Great, Cost-Effective Solutions to the Dream Backyard." During this presentation, attendees will learn how to save money on outdoor lighting, roofing options and building with elevations.

"These solutions not only save money — they also take the property's overall aesthetic into account and ultimately help enhance your home's look and feel," Harbert said.

Another presentation is "Best Design Features and Trends of 2024." Here, Halbert will discuss the popular colors of the moment as well as the movement toward smooth concrete surfaces and outdoor porcelain options. He'll give attendees a preview of Precision Outdoors' upcoming projects and products.

Then, in "A Virtual Look at Your Backyard," attendees will be able to see a backyard project come to life right before their eyes through a virtual reality simulation. The last presentation is called "Dog Runs, Custom Playgrounds, Inground Trampolines: Take Your Backyard to the Next Level."

With these presentations, Precision Outdoors aims to inspire outdoor living spaces fit for the whole family.

“Big Splash, Less Cash” with Designer Liz Henderson

Home improvement projects don't need to break the bank

Many people wait until they can tackle an entire design project at once — but there's no need to wait! From new cabinet knobs to light fixtures, small changes can totally update the look of any room, one simple change at a time. Plus, with online options galore, it's easy to find the same designer look for a fraction of the price. Liz Henderson and her friends will show you how!

“I look forward to sharing with Indianapolis Home Show visitors how simple design updates can make a BIG impact — all without breaking the bank,” Henderson said. “From my own home renovation experiences, I've learned where to spend money and where not to. I'm excited to share the lessons — both good and bad — my family has learned along the way.”

Join Liz and some of her favorite local design professionals at the Home Show as they share the best tips and tricks for achieving a designer look for less.

With a realtor and design expert also joining the panel, Liz and her team hope to leave attendees inspired and empowered to tackle their own home updates — one little change at a time. You'll leave the session inspired and empowered to make simple changes that make a big difference in your space.

Passionate about people and places, Liz finds joy in sharing the best of her home, gatherings and quaint places on her Instagram @thehendyhouse. Formerly a radio and television producer, Liz now spends her days designing beautiful events and encouraging others to celebrate everyday moments.

She and her husband, Mike, have been featured on HGTV's House Hunters, DIY Network's Renovation Realities and recently restored a historic 1854 home sharing their journey with the Magnolia Network. Liz calls the cornfields of Indiana home, where she loves to host play dates, dinner parties and pizza nights with her husband and three little kids.

Meet Liz at the Home Show on Saturday, January 27, when she presents, “Big Splash, Less Cash: How to update your home with simple changes that don't break the bank.”
