Welcome

to the 2026 Indianapolis Home Show

INDIANAPOLIS
HOME SHOW
— SINCE 1922 —

The Indianapolis Home Show is an Indiana tradition and the oldest home show in North America, offering the latest in decorating, landscaping, construction and remodeling ideas – and it's officially back again for its 104th year! Visitors to the Indianapolis Home Show can talk to hundreds of home and décor experts for advice and explore thousands of the newest home products!

New this year, Lakeside Living invites guests to step away from the everyday and into a relaxed, outdoor-inspired escape — all without leaving the Expo Hall. Designed as an immersive walk-through experience, the feature brings the sights, sounds and feeling of lakeside living to the heart of the Indianapolis Home Show.

Anchored by a tranquil lake setting and surrounded by natural textures, stone and greenery, Lakeside Living encourages guests to slow down, explore and imagine how nature-forward design can shape the way we live. The experience features three unique living spaces — a cabin, a destination trailer and a yurt — each offering a different take on comfort, creativity and connection to the outdoors.

From weekend retreats to flexible lifestyle spaces, Lakeside Living showcases how outdoor-inspired environments can be both functional and beautifully designed. As the largest feature on the show floor, it sets the tone for this year's Home Show and serves as a reminder that inspiration can come from simply stepping inside and experiencing what's possible.

Plus, this year's celebrity guests include Bravo star and entrepreneur Craig Conover and renowned author and artist Virginia Chamlee.

If you're a fan of Craig Conover's lifestyle brand, Sewing Down South, then you'll definitely want to arrive first thing in the morning to take part in a pillowcase giveaway. Partnering with the Home Show, Sewing Down South will give away complimentary pillowcases to the first 50 attendees each day, Monday, Jan. 19 through Friday, Jan. 23. Then stop by Craig's booth on Friday, Jan. 23 and Saturday, Jan. 24, where he'll be selling his coordinating line of pillows to match with your pillowcase.

For the very first time, the Indianapolis Home Show will shine a spotlight on the next generation of entrepreneurs! Visit the Children's Entrepreneur Market, where 50 young business owners, ages 5–17, will showcase their ideas and sell unique products from crochet items, 3D prints, jewelry, homemade candle vessels and more. Each participant handles their own communication, from explaining their products to taking payments and counting change, giving them full exposure to the world of starting their own business.

After a successful debut last year, the Indianapolis Home Show's Cooking Stage returns to the Perfect Pergola Stage with recipes, demos and more! Monday-Friday, Chefs Michael Gomez and Ross Katz will be cooking up some delicious bites for visitors to try themselves.

"We had such an amazing time last year that we were stoked to be invited back," said Chef Katz. "The show is such an amazing environment. We love interacting with the guests and seeing all that the vendors bring."

Plan your day around the variety of Perfect Pergola Stage presentations and demos too during opening day and the weekends of the Home Show. There, you'll learn about the latest furniture and design trends, creating family friendly spaces, organizing your garage, interior design tips and tricks, what to consider when selecting a contractor and so much more! There's something for everyone to enjoy!

Thanks for attending the 104th Indianapolis Home Show! We hope you enjoy the show!

Lakeside Living Brings the Outdoors Inside at the Indianapolis Home Show

An immersive lakeside retreat transforms the Expo Hall with water, nature, and innovative living spaces.

The Indianapolis Home Show is introducing a bold new centerpiece this year with Lakeside Living, an outdoor-inspired feature designed to transport guests into a nature-filled retreat—right in the middle of the Expo Hall.

At the heart of the experience is Hoosier Lake, a 2,500-square-foot water feature holding more than 20,000 gallons of water. Surrounded by 50 tons of natural stone and 40 to 60 mature trees, the display reimagines the traditional Home Show centerpiece, transforming the show floor into a lakeside escape that highlights outdoor living, recreation, and design.

Visitors can step inside three distinct living spaces that showcase different ways people are embracing nature-forward lifestyles today. The feature includes a fully decorated 20-by-24-foot cabin, a 44-foot destination trailer, and a decorated yurt, each offering a unique take on comfort, functionality, and connection to the outdoors.

Lakeside Living reflects a growing interest in flexible living spaces and experiential design, demonstrating how cabins, trailers, and alternative structures can serve as full-featured retreats—whether for weekend getaways, seasonal living, or everyday enjoyment. The display allows guests to explore each space up close while taking in the sights and sounds of the surrounding lake environment.

The feature is brought to life through the collaboration of several Indiana-based and regional companies, including Brookside Timber Frame, Great Lakes Yurt Co., and Walnut Ridge Family RV Sales, each contributing their expertise to create a cohesive, walk-through experience. Together, their work helps anchor Lakeside Living as a centerpiece that blends craftsmanship, design, and imagination into one of the most visually striking displays in the show.

As the largest feature on the show floor, Lakeside Living sets the tone for this year's Indianapolis Home Show—inviting guests to slow down, explore, and experience what's possible when home, nature, and creativity come together.

Guests can experience the new Lakeside Living display at the center of Expo Hall throughout the duration of the Home Show.

Lakeside Living is supported by a group of Indiana-based and regional companies that helped bring the display to life, including:

- Smart Pergola
- SynLawn
- GreenStone
- BrickWorks
- Circle City Trees
- North Indy Fence, Deck & Rail
- Sullivan Appliance
- Simply Amish Furniture
- Cabinets to Go
- Circle City Copperworks

Three Companies Contribute Three Distinct Living Spaces to Indianapolis Home Show Centerpiece

Rather than a traditional home, the centerpiece feature of this year's Indianapolis Home Show — Lakeside Living — highlights three distinct living spaces that showcase different ways people are embracing nature-forward lifestyles. The feature is brought to life through the collaboration of several Indiana-based and regional companies, including Brookside Timber Frame, Great Lakes Yurt Co., and Walnut Ridge Family RV Sales, each offering a unique take on comfort, functionality, and connection to the outdoors.

Brookside Timber Frame is responsible for the fully decorated 20-by-24-foot cabin, which features a wraparound porch overlooking Hoosier Lake — a 2,500-square-foot water feature holding more than 20,000 gallons of water. Born out of an empty dairy barn in 2018, Brookside Timber Frame now operates out of a large facility in Richmond, Indiana, serving Hoosiers as well as residents in Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, and New York.

As is Great Lakes Yurt Co.'s specialty, their Home Show contribution involved taking an original Mongolian yurt design and revamping it with modern-day durable materials and building standards. Manufactured in Michigan, Great Lakes' yurts are fit for year-round enjoyment, as they're made to withstand the weather of all four seasons.

Walnut Ridge Family RV Sales rounds out the batch of outdoor living spaces with a 44-foot destination trailer. The company has been recognized as one of the Top 50 RV Dealers in North America for 11 consecutive years, earning the distinguished RVDA 2025 Five Elite Blue Ribbon Top 50 Award — an honor reserved for the top five dealers in North America. Since 2003, Walnut Ridge Family RV Sales has been the “#1 retailer of fifth wheels in the state of Indiana.”

Together, these three companies help anchor Lakeside Living as a centerpiece that blends craftsmanship, design, and imagination into one of the most visually striking displays in the show. As the largest feature on the show floor, Lakeside Living sets the tone for this year's Indianapolis Home Show — inviting guests to slow down, explore, and experience what's possible when home, nature, and creativity come together.

We thank these three companies for creating one of the most unique centerpiece features in the long history of the Indianapolis Home Show.

Transforming the Way Indiana Lives Outdoors

Experience expert insight on the Perfect Pergola Stage, presented by Homestead Outdoor Living & The Perfect Pergola

As this year's Perfect Pergola Stage Sponsor, Homestead Outdoor Living returns to the Indianapolis Home Show with a bold mission: to show homeowners what's truly possible when design, engineering, and comfort come together in an outdoor space. Known throughout Central Indiana for their premium Azenco smart pergolas and Magnatrack motorized screens, Homestead has become the go-to partner for homeowners, landscapers, restaurants, and builders looking to elevate the way people gather outside.

Family-owned and proudly based in Indianapolis, Homestead Outdoor Living has grown into one of Indiana's leading outdoor-living design and construction firms. Their team specializes in creating all-season spaces—from louvered roof systems and screened patios to outdoor kitchens and Premium Decks. This year's Perfect Pergola Stage installation showcases The Perfect Pergola, Homestead's flagship system and the region's premier source for Azenco's award-winning smart pergolas. Visitors will be able to stop by our Show Booth #264 and walk through a fully built environment that includes automated louvers, integrated lighting, all-weather motorized screens, and the sleek architectural finish that has become the company's signature.

"Our goal is always to design spaces where families spend more time together," says Partner, Chuck Damler. "Outdoor living should be beautiful, functional, and durable enough for Indiana weather. With smart pergolas and enclosed structures, people can finally use their patios 10–12 months a year."

Throughout the 10-day show, the Perfect Pergola Stage will host presentations on "Outdoor Living Trends for 2025–2026," and "How Motorized Shade & Smart Roof Technology Are Changing Backyard Living."

The Homestead team—Owners Chuck Damler and Christian Hines, including designers, project specialists, and installation experts—will be available daily to answer questions, show material samples, and help homeowners think through layouts, budgets, and design possibilities.

Homestead Outdoor Living also serves commercial clients, with completed projects for restaurants, Multi-Family developments, and entertainment venues across Indiana. With growing demand for covered patios, weather-protected dining, and year-round seating, Homestead's commercial division has become a trusted partner for architects and builders needing code-compliant, engineered outdoor solutions.

Whether you're dreaming of a quiet backyard retreat, a high-performance screened room, or a fully equipped outdoor kitchen under a smart pergola, the Homestead team hopes their Perfect Pergola Stage installation inspires you to imagine what your home could become.

Visit the Perfect Pergola Stage—Presented by Homestead Outdoor Living & The Perfect Pergola—open for the entire 10-day Home Show.

Bravo TV Star & Entrepreneur Craig Conover Brings Southern Charm to the Indianapolis Home Show

Craig shares his journey from reality TV personality to thriving business owner

Craig Conover, beloved cast member of Bravo's hit reality series Southern Charm, is bringing his signature charisma, humor and entrepreneurial spirit to the Indianapolis Home Show. Known initially on the show for his unexpected love of sewing, Craig transformed what began as a personal passion into a booming lifestyle brand—Sewing Down South.

Craig co-founded Sewing Down South in Charleston, South Carolina, where his handcrafted pillows quickly grew into a national sensation. The brand now boasts flagship retail stores in both Charleston and Nashville, with a major expansion on the horizon through an exclusive partnership with Belk launching in 2025. At the Home Show, attendees will even get the chance to explore his Sewing Down South pop-up shop, featuring a selection of his signature pillows available for purchase.

Though he's known for his television success, Craig's story goes far beyond reality TV. Originally from Fenwick Island, Delaware, he remains close to his family and credits a difficult chapter in his life—his mother's diagnosis with thyroid cancer—as a turning point. During that time, Craig returned home to help care for her, sharpening his cooking skills and even developing a line of iodine-free meals inspired by her recovery journey.

Craig has also dedicated himself to giving back. He serves on the board for Hope for the Warriors, using his platform to elevate causes supporting veterans and military families. Through Sewing Down South, he has helped raise funds for disaster relief, including efforts following Hurricane Dorian.

In addition to his business ventures, Craig is a licensed attorney and a graduate of the College of Charleston and the Charleston School of Law. He is also the author of the best-selling memoir Pillow Talk: What's Wrong with My Sewing?, where he opens up about perseverance, passion and carving out an unconventional path to success.

What's Wrong with My Sewing?, where he opens up about perseverance, passion and carving out an unconventional path to success.

Don't miss Craig Conover on stage at the Indianapolis Home Show Friday, January 23 at 5 p.m. & Saturday, January 24 at Noon!

Renowned Author & Artist Virginia Chamlee Brings “Big Thrift Energy” to the Indianapolis Home Show

Virginia shares her passion for art, thrifting, and vintage style

Virginia Chamlee—artist, writer and best-selling author of Big Thrift Energy—is bringing her signature eye for style and creative spirit to the Indianapolis Home Show. A lifelong treasure hunter and celebrated creator, Virginia has built a national following for her vibrant artwork, inspiring thrift philosophy, and uncanny ability to uncover extraordinary finds in the most unexpected places.

As an artist, Virginia’s original paintings and prints have been featured everywhere from Anthropologie to Chairish to Artfully Walls, appearing in high-end residential designs and commercial spaces, including the green room of Jimmy Kimmel Live!. Her bold, expressive style has made her a favorite among collectors across the country, and she continues to offer commissions for those seeking one-of-a-kind pieces for their homes.

Virginia is also the author behind the hit book Big Thrift Energy, a practical and inspirational guide for anyone looking to elevate their home with vintage finds. Part resource, part pep-talk, the book teaches readers how to spot the good stuff, upcycle and style unique pieces, and even flip special items for profit. Her thrifting expertise is hard-earned—she has uncovered treasures like a Goyard trunk worth more than $10,000 purchased for just $90 and a floor-length Christian Dior cape scored at Goodwill for $10.

Beyond the thrill of the hunt, Virginia is passionate about empowering others to shop secondhand with confidence. She shares her proven strategies—like visiting thrift stores frequently, scanning every corner of the store, bringing basics like a tape measure, and embracing patience—as a way to make thrifting accessible, fun and rewarding for all.

At the Indianapolis Home Show, guests can expect Virginia to bring her creative energy, expert tips and infectious enthusiasm for all things vintage, artistic and home-focused. She will be available throughout the show’s run, offering inspiration to anyone looking to infuse personality and history into their home décor.

Catch Virginia Chamlee live at the Indianapolis Home Show, January 16 & 17. Don’t miss the chance to learn from one of the country’s most imaginative and influential thrifters and artists.

Teacher Day Sun., January 18

Taking attendance for all educators on Sunday, Jan. 18!

As a thank you to those who help teach our little ones, all teachers and school staff receive FREE ADMISSION to the show on Jan. 18. Just bring a valid staff ID and enjoy the Home Show free of charge!

Step Into a World of Creativity and Ambition Created by the Next Generation of Business Leaders

Indiana's Children's Entrepreneur Market brings 50 young innovators eager to share their creations.

For the very first time, the Indianapolis Home Show will shine a spotlight on the next generation of entrepreneurs — many of whom haven't even graduated high school yet. The Children's Entrepreneur Market will feature 50 young business owners, ages 5–17, giving them the opportunity to showcase their ideas and sell unique products directly to customers. Each participant handles their own communication, from explaining their products to taking payments and counting change.

These innovative offerings include jewelry, hand-poured candles and wax melts, homemade candle vessels, laundry soap, key chains, accessories, crochet items, 3D prints, potted succulents with handmade plant stakes and more.

Since its origin in Utah in 2017, this award-winning program has expanded to nearly 400 cities, hosted more than 1,200 markets, supported over 86,000 youth entrepreneurs and generated more than $9 million in revenue for these future business leaders.

Kerri Melson, Indianapolis' Market Manager, says she can't wait to introduce these young innovators and their creations to this year's Indianapolis Home Show.

"It's amazing to see these young entrepreneurs in action as well as their fun and unique products," said Melson. "I'm very thankful to be able to be a part of providing these learning and earning opportunities in Indiana, and grateful that the Home Show sees the value in supporting our future business leaders!"

Families interested in learning more about the program or registering for upcoming events can visit the Children's Entrepreneur Market website <https://kidsmarkets.com/>

Come support and marvel at the brilliant minds of Indiana's Children's Entrepreneur Market on weekends only, Jan. 17–18 and Jan. 24–25, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Indianapolis Home Show.

Senior Day Tues., January 20

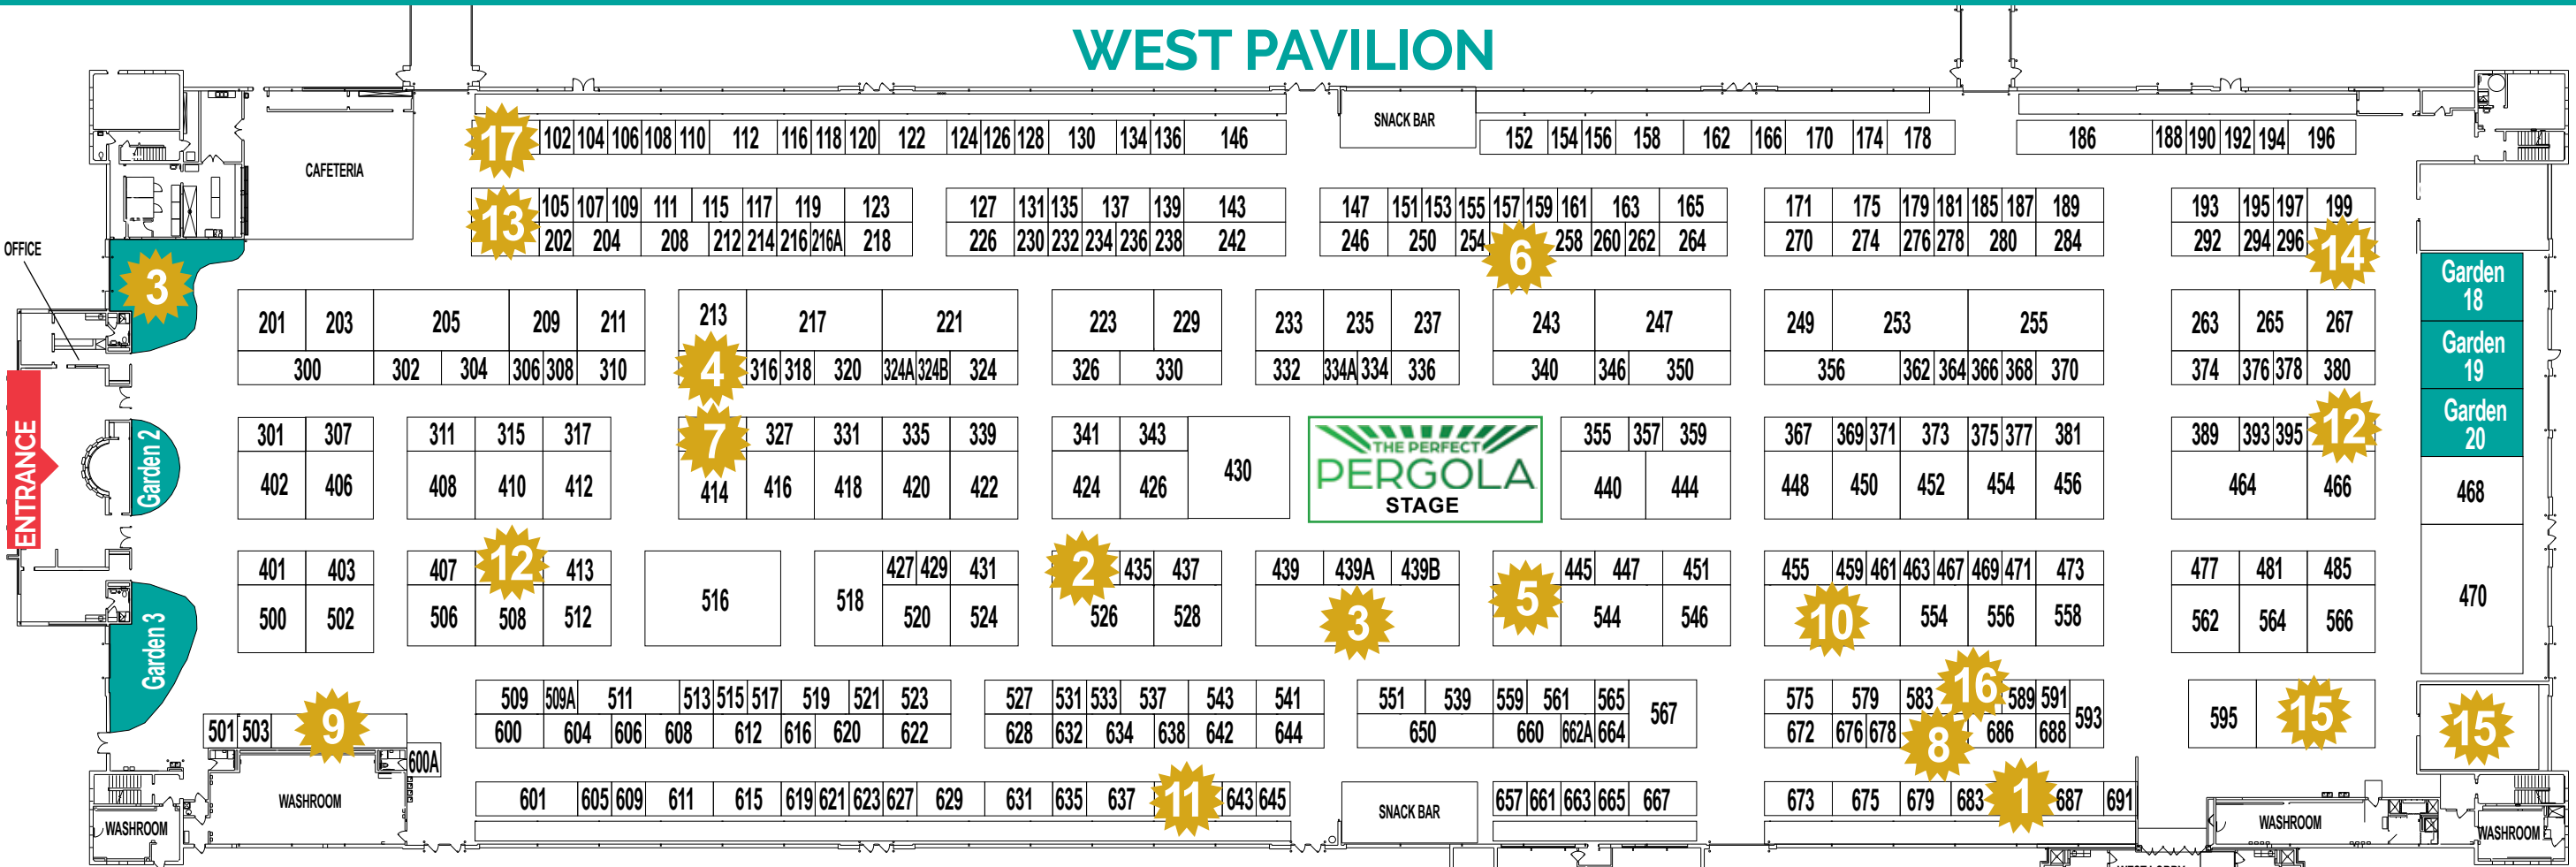

We're celebrating our senior visitors with a special discount on Tuesday, Jan. 20!! All guests age 65 and older receive $5 admission to the Home Show. Offer valid onsite only, so simply purchase your ticket at the box office to take advantage of this deal.

Freddy Fever Noon-1pm
Boomer 1:45-2:45 pm

Get ready for a slam dunk moment at the Indianapolis Home Show! Two of Indiana's most beloved mascots—Boomer from the Indiana Pacers and Freddy Fever — will make special appearances on Saturday, Jan. 17, at the C&J Water and Well Co. Booths #201 and #203. Guests are invited to swing by for a selfie, share a high-five or simply say hello to these two Hoosier icons as they bring energy, fun and team spirit to the show.

HIGHLIGHTS

Indianapolis Home Show Sponsor Offers Free Parking

During the first full week of the Indianapolis Home Show, attendees are in for a special perk — three days of free parking.

Valid from Monday, January 19 through Wednesday January 21, this deal comes courtesy of show sponsor Modern Day Window & Door. Led by experts in home installation, replacement and repair, the company's team will have two booths at the Home Show.

Attendees can take advantage of exclusive event-only discounts and interact with displays of double hung windows, patio doors, sliding glass doors, and casement windows — among other products.

As Co-Founder Scott Dorrell said on the company's website: "At the show, you can get hands-on with the products, which is something we can't always do during in-home sales visits."

Attendees should make sure not to miss out on this opportunity or Modern Day Window & Door's free parking offer, as parking fees will return to $10 per car on Thursday, January 22.

For more information about Modern Day Window & Door, visit www.ModernDayWindow.com. For more on the Indianapolis Home Show, call 317.705.8719 or visit www.IndianapolisHomeShow.com.

Beloved Chefs Return to the Cooking Stage with Fresh Inspiration and Culinary Know-How

Chefs Michael Gomez and Ross Katz bring high-energy demos, kitchen insights and Hoosier flavor to Home Show audiences

After a successful debut last year, the Indianapolis Home Show's Cooking Stage is back — and so are the chefs who made it an instant fan favorite. Chef Michael Gomez and Chef Ross Katz will once again join forces to share their culinary expertise, approachable methods and enthusiasm for cooking with Home Show guests.

Chef Gomez, owner and founder of Gomez BBQ, has been cooking all his life.

Born and raised in Indianapolis, he brings a global perspective to the city's culinary scene. An avid traveler, Gomez has spent years studying ingredients and techniques from around the world, blending that knowledge into the bold, creative flavors that define his signature barbecue. His passion for experimentation and commitment to high-quality food continue to shape his work as a chef, pitmaster and local business owner.

Chef Katz, founder of RHB Resources, is a chef-centric consultant, educator and industry leader dedicated to elevating culinary experiences across Indianapolis. After opening and later selling his restaurant Rooster's Kitchen, Katz launched RHB Resources to pursue his passion for foodservice strategy and culinary education. He now consults with restaurants, provides specialty event services and teaches middle-school culinary arts at a local charter school — coaching students who compete at the World Food Championships.

Together, Chef Gomez and Chef Katz bring a blend of creativity, expertise and personality to the Cooking Stage. During this year's Home Show, attendees will get a taste of crowd-pleasing, comfort-food-inspired dishes made with Legacy Maker ground beef, including a "Big Mac" cheeseburger dip — a beefy, cheesy appetizer perfect for feeding a hungry crowd — and a Smashburger Mexican pizza, a bold twist on a fast-food classic designed to be shared family-style.

While additional recipes may vary by demonstration, guests can expect cooking demos that highlight versatile techniques, unexpected flavor combinations and ideas that home cooks of all skill levels can try in their own kitchens.

"I'm looking forward to seeing all the new innovations coming to kitchen remodels," said Chef Katz. "It's always so much fun to see the new trends in home kitchens and how they complement the professional cooking world."

Katz added that he and Chef Gomez are thrilled to return.

"We had such an amazing time last year that we were stoked to be invited back," Katz said. "The show is such an amazing environment. We love interacting with the guests and seeing all that the vendors bring."

Whether they're breaking down techniques, offering step-by-step guidance or sharing stories from their culinary journeys, these two chefs promise a dynamic and engaging experience for every Home Show visitor.

Check out what Chef Katz and Chef Gomez are whipping up at the Cooking Stage, open at the Perfect Pergola Stage on Monday-Friday of the Home Show!

Smashburger Mexican Pizza

Total Time: 45 Minutes, Yield: Serves 8-10

Notes: For a gluten free option, you can use corn tortillas. If you like your salsa milder, replace the Chipotle pepper with a couple dashes of your favorite hot sauce. If you mix your sour cream with a bit of milk, and pour it into a squirt bottle, you can drizzle on different designs or decorate your plates.

Ingredients:

Ground Beef

Legacy Maker 80/20 Ground Beef 1 lb
Lawry's Season Salt 1 tsp
Garlic Powder 1/2 tsp
Onion Powder 1/2 tsp
Cumin 1 tsp
Chili Powder 1 tsp
Pepper 1/2 tsp

Chipotle Taco Sauce

Tomato Purree (8oz can) 1 can
Chipotle Pepper (canned en adobo) 1 pepper
Garlic (crushed) 1 clove
White vinegar 1 Tbsp
Salt 1 tsp
Pepper 1/2 tsp
Juiced Lime 1 ea
Sugar 1/2 tsp

Assembly and Garnish

Flour Tortillas (6") 6 to 8 ea
Vegetable Oil 4 Tbsp
Cheddar Cheese 1 lb
Shredded Lettuce 1 cup
Diced Tomatoes 1 cup
Sour Cream 1 cup

Directions:

1. In a large bowl, combine your beef with your taco seasonings and set aside.
2. In a blender or the cup of an immersion blender, combine your Taco Sauce ingredients.
3. Blend until smooth and set aside.
4. Divide your beef into 6 - 8 even balls. Spread the seasoned beef evenly over one side of each flour tortilla. (Using wax paper helps spread the beef).
5. Pre-heat a griddle, skillet, or cast iron pan.
6. When your pan is hot, place your tortillas beef side down in the pan and press firmly with a sturdy spatula or burger press.
7. Sear your ground beef till it forms a nice crust, and then flip to the tortilla side.
8. Cook your tortilla until it is crispy and golden brown. (Add vegetable oil to the pan as needed to get a good crispy fry on your tortilla).
9. Remove from the pan, and top with your cheese, taco sauce, and garnishes.
10. Cut like a pizza and serve.

Utensils:

Cutting Board
Knife
Cast Iron Pan or griddle
Heavy Duty Spatula
Blender or Immersion Blender
Bowls

Big Mac Dip

Total Time: 15 Minutes, Yield: Serves 8-10

Notes: You can make the dressing ahead of time, and save yourself prep the day of your event.

You can top your dip with any of your favorite burger toppings including bacon and hot peppers.

Ingredients:

Cheese Burger Layer

Legacy Maker 80/20 Ground Beef 1 lb
Lawry's season Salt 1/2 Tbsp
White Onion (Diced Fine) 1/4 ea
Velveeta Cheese 1 lb
Sour Cream 1/4 cup
Milk 1/4 cup

1000 Island

Mayo 1/3 cup
Sour Cream 1/4 cup
Tomato Paste 1 tsp
Pickles (minced) 1 Tbsp
White Onion (Diced Fine) 1 Tbsp
Sugar 1 tsp
Yellow Mustard 1 Tbsp

Garnish

Shredded Lettuce 1 cup
Girkins or Sweet Pickles (sliced) 1/4 cup
White Onion (Diced Fine) 1/4 ea
Sesame Crackers 1 pk

Directions:

1. In a cast iron or heavy bottom pan, brown your Legacy Maker ground beef with season salt.
2. Once the beef is cooked through, using a slotted spoon remove the beef and set aside.
3. Drain off any rendered fat, then add your onions. Cook the onions till they turn translucent.
4. Once the onions have softened, add back your beef and then add your Velveeta cheese.
5. Set your heat to low and allow the cheese to melt.
6. Once melted, add your sour cream and milk.
7. While the cheese is melting, combine your 1000 island ingredients in a food processor or the cup of an immersion blender.
8. Pulse the food processor until the onions and pickles are minced, and the dressing is well mixed.
9. Once your cheese is melted, and bubbly turn off the heat and top with your lettuce, Girkins, diced onions, and then drizzle with your 1000 island dressing.
10. Serve with sesame crackers.
