Distinctive Outdoor Living

Shared laughter. Heartfelt conversation.
Unforgettable memories.

What does outdoor living mean to you?

At the heart of outdoor living is a special space that becomes the focal point of your outdoor events. At Brookside Timber Frame, we believe that these special spaces should be a source of pride and enjoyment for you. That's why we specialize in designing and constructing mortise and tenon pergolas and pavilions that are not only functional but also add a touch of elegance to any space.

Your timber frame structure will become a gathering place that encourages connection and celebration. Its unique design and natural aesthetics will become a topic of admiration and conversation among your guests. It will serve not only as a backdrop for the festivities but as a vessel for shared experiences and heart-to-heart connections.

Hi, I'm Brock the Beaver.
Just wanted to let you gnaw that we'll be in GARDEN 12 in the Flower Patio Show.

Indianapolis Landscape Association Presents Feature Gardens

Check out a variety of Hoosier landscapers' signature styles in the West Pavilion and Expo Hall

The Indianapolis Landscape Association brings its Feature Gardens back to the Indiana Flower + Patio Show, transforming the West Pavilion and Expo Hall into an immersive landscape experience showcasing the signature styles of Central Indiana's top landscape designers and contractors.

Spanning more than 60,000 square feet, the Feature Gardens offer show attendees inspiration for outdoor spaces of every size and budget — from intimate backyard retreats to large-scale landscape designs. Each garden is built by local professionals using real plants, materials and hardscape elements, giving visitors the opportunity to see ideas come to life and gather practical takeaways for their own projects.

Ryan Coyle of Vive Exterior Design, who currently serves as President of the Indianapolis Landscape Association, said the Feature Gardens represent far more than visual displays.

"The feature gardens are not just displays — they are living demonstrations of innovation, skill and dedication," Coyle said. "Behind every installation is a team of professionals committed to excellence. The Flower + Patio Show highlights the very best of what our members do and the collaborative spirit of our local green industry."

The Indianapolis Landscape Association has supported green industry professionals since 1949, representing landscape contractors, designers, suppliers and related businesses throughout Marion County and surrounding areas. The association works to strengthen the industry through education, advocacy, collaboration and professional development.

Among this year's Feature Gardens is a multi-element outdoor living space by Hamilton County Lawn & Landscape, featuring a two-tiered deck design with an outdoor kitchen, fire pit seating area, water feature with a waterfall and creek bed, and landscaped surroundings. The display highlights alternative design options beyond traditional paver patios while showcasing functional outdoor living concepts.

ShedEscape Designs will also debut several custom-built structures within the gardens, including new playhouse and garden shed concepts designed for both residential and commercial use. Their display emphasizes how thoughtfully designed structures can complement landscaped spaces and create areas for relaxation, creativity and family connection.

"The Flower + Patio Show is always a special opportunity for us to connect with families and showcase the perfect spaces for relaxation, imagination and a slower pace of life," said Lana Beck, Co-Owner of ShedEscapes. "The transformation that takes place to prepare for this show is truly a sight to see. The flowers, gardens and creative ideas are so inspiring as everyone dreams about warmer days. We love being part of an event that celebrates home, outdoor living and time together. We can't wait!"

TurnerScapes Landscaping Inc. is also showcasing a feature garden focused on functional, high-end outdoor living. The Central Indiana-based, full-service landscaping firm is highlighting how natural stone walkways, water features and adaptable design elements can work together to create cohesive outdoor environments that feel both rustic and refined.

David Hoffman, vice president of build design and construction at TurnerScapes, said their Feature Garden is designed to show how outdoor spaces can evolve alongside homeowners' lifestyles.

"Landscape design is about more than just plants and pavers — it's about creating a space that works for how you live," Hoffman said. "We're excited to show how natural stone and thoughtful design can come together to create outdoor spaces that add both beauty and long-term value to a home."

New this year, attendees can also experience the gardens through guided Feature Garden Tours led by longtime Landscape Coordinator Bill Brown. These semi-private tours offer a behind-the-scenes look at how the gardens are designed and constructed, highlighting details, materials and processes visitors may not notice on their own. Tours are $25 per person and include show admission. Tickets can be purchased on the Flower + Patio Show website.

Feature Garden Tours Schedule:

- Monday, March 16 at 9:00 a.m.
- Tuesday, March 17 at 4:00 p.m.
- Wednesday, March 18 at 4:00 p.m.
- Thursday, March 19 at 9:00 a.m.

With more than 60,000 square feet of landscaped gardens, Flower + Patio Show attendees are sure to have a range of landscaping beauty at their fingertips.

A full list of contributing landscapers are as follows:

- All Pro Landscaping LLC
- B&F Landscaping

Behind the Blooms: Landscape Coordinator Bill Brown Offers Guided Feature Garden Tours at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show

New semi-private tours give attendees a behind-the-scenes look at the show's feature gardens

For the first time at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show, attendees can experience the show's feature gardens from a whole new perspective through guided, semi-private Feature Garden Tours led by longtime Landscape Coordinator Bill Brown.

With more than four decades of experience in landscaping and garden design, Brown will lead small groups through the show's expansive feature gardens, highlighting key design elements and sharing insight into what it takes to bring each garden to life. The tours will offer a deeper look at details guests may not notice at first glance — from plant selection and layout to construction logistics and finishing touches.

Brown has worked behind-the-scenes at both the Indiana Flower + Patio Show and the Indianapolis Home Show for more than a decade, overseeing operations on the show floor and coordinating with landscape designers, builders and vendors to transform the space each year. He began his career in landscaping in the late 1970s, eventually owning and operating his own company, Wm. H. Brown Landscape Inc., before taking on his role guiding the creation of the show's large-scale landscape features.

Each year, Brown helps coordinate the installation of the feature gardens, a process that includes thousands of tons of materials and days of meticulous planning and execution. The gardens come together through a multi-day setup involving sand, mulch, plant material and hardscape elements — all assembled in just over a week and dismantled shortly after the show concludes.

The Feature Garden Tours are designed to be interactive and informative, giving attendees an opportunity to ask questions and gain a greater appreciation for the creativity, craftsmanship and coordination required to produce the show's gardens.

Feature Garden Tours Schedule:

- Monday, March 16 at 9:00 a.m.
- Tuesday, March 17 at 4:00 p.m.
- Wednesday, March 18 at 4:00 p.m.
- Thursday, March 19 at 9:00 a.m.

Tours are $25 per person and include show admission. Availability is limited.

County Materials Corporation Helps Create Spaces to Gather at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show

Company sponsors the presentation stage in Expo Hall and Beer & Bloom Garden in the West Pavilion

County Materials Corporation, a leading manufacturer of concrete construction and landscape products, is helping bring both education and relaxation to life at this year's Indiana Flower + Patio Show as the sponsor of the County Materials Stage and the County Materials Beer & Bloom Garden.

The County Materials Stage will feature presentations from local and national experts in gardening, outdoor living, floral design and plant care, offering attendees practical ideas and inspiration as they kick off the spring season.

County Materials is also proud to support the Beer & Bloom Garden, a full-service patio-style beer garden located in the West Pavilion. Designed and constructed by Lakeshore Hardscapes using County Materials products, the space showcases how hardscape materials can be used to create inviting, functional outdoor gathering areas.

"County Materials is proud to sponsor spaces at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show this year," said Steve Ratliff of County Materials Corporation. "It's a great opportunity to support an event that brings people together and highlights the creativity and craftsmanship within our industry. We're excited to be part of a show that continues to inspire homeowners and professionals alike."

The Beer & Bloom Garden offers attendees a place to relax and recharge during their visit, featuring a variety of craft beers, domestics, wine and spirits in a unique patio setting that blends durability, style and comfort.

"The beer garden is a space that really demonstrates how the right hardscape products can create a warm and welcoming environment," Ratliff said. "We're thrilled to contribute to an area where visitors can relax and enjoy the show, and we're looking forward to seeing everyone experience it."

Founded in 1946, County Materials Corporation is recognized as a trusted industry resource for concrete construction and landscape products. With nearly 2,000 employees across more than 40 locations in six states, the company supplies materials for infrastructure, commercial, agricultural, municipal and residential projects — helping build the communities where people live, work and gather.

Sip and savor your favorite beverage at the County Materials Beer & Bloom Garden in West Pavilion and check out all the inspiring speakers and designers on the County Materials Stage in Expo Hall throughout the duration of the Indiana Flower + Patio Show!

Decking Experts Blueprint, Build and Battle For the Top Prize

Three contractors face off in the annual Deck Wars competition, sponsored by Trex

Who can build the most dynamite deck? Three Central Indiana contractors duke it out to answer that question. The Deck Wars competition is sponsored by Trex, the world's largest manufacturer of wood-alternative decking and railing products.

but feels like an escape somewhere entirely different.”

Hile added that while another win would be welcome, the bigger goal is showcasing what's possible.

“We've proudly sponsored Deck Wars since its inaugural year in 2020,” said Adam Hochstedler, account manager with Trex. “It's always exciting to see the creativity and craftsmanship these builders bring to the competition. Deck Wars gives them a great platform to showcase their work and connect with the community.”

The participating contractors this year are Advance Deck & Sunroom of Indiana, Bunner Building LLC and CFG Remodeling. These decking experts each get a 20x20-foot space in the Exposition Hall to design and build one-of-a-kind decks – and Flower + Patio Show attendees will choose the winner, decided on Friday, March 20 at 5 p.m.!

Advance Deck & Sunroom returns as the two-time defending champion.

“It's not often in our industry that you get to compete head-to-head with other talented builders,” said John Hile, owner of Advance Deck & Sunroom. “Being given 400 square feet to create something that stands out is both exciting and challenging. This year, we've designed a space that could fit behind any home,

“We're proud of what we've accomplished in past competitions, but for us, it's about demonstrating both the practical and creative possibilities of outdoor living.”

“I think the Flower and Patio Show is an excellent opportunity for builders like us to showcase our work for a large audience,” said Daniel Bunner, owner of Bunner Building LLC. “It's also great for the consumer to be able to see examples of work from several different service providers and meet some of the people from each team. We are looking forward to participating in the Deck Wars and demonstrating the quality of our work.”

“We are excited to meet new people and display some of our very custom fully customizable products that are available,” said Floyd Foster, owner of CFG Remodeling. “We want to see what kind of awesome projects our customers have in mind! We want to make our customers' outdoor living space the most satisfying for them to enjoy the way they envisioned it!”

Balanced Harvest Flower Farm's Todd Jameson Shares Practical Gardening Wisdom at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show

Local flower farmer offers expert insight on flowers, vegetables and seasonal growing

Todd Jameson, co-owner of Balanced Harvest Flower Farm, returns to the Indiana Flower + Patio Show to share his passion for horticulture through a series of stage presentations focused on flowers, seasonal design and gardening at home.

Owned and operated by Todd and his wife, Kathleen, Balanced Harvest Flower Farm specializes in sustainably grown cut flowers, decorative branches and potted plants. The farm was originally located in Carmel before relocating in 2011 to the sandy loam fields of Needham in Shelby County, midway between Franklin and Shelbyville — an area well-suited for growing a wide variety of specialty crops.

Throughout the year, Balanced Harvest Flower Farm produces an ever-changing selection of blooms and branches. During the winter months, the farm harvests pussy, fantail and curly willow, forsythia and flowering quince. In the spring and summer, the fields burst into color with peonies, sunflowers, dahlias and countless other flowers. Their products are sold by the stem, bunch and bouquet at farmers markets, special events and festivals throughout Central Indiana, including the Indiana Peony Festival.

Gardening has been a lifelong passion for Jameson, who has spent decades working with plants and sharing his knowledge with others. He believes that successful gardening is not about having a “green thumb,” but about learning, patience and commitment — principles he emphasizes in his presentations.

At the Flower + Patio Show, Jameson will present multiple sessions covering topics such as porch pot design, growing peonies and dahlias, vegetable gardening in Indiana and incorporating garden materials into floral design. His presentations are designed to be practical and approachable, offering attendees tips they can realistically apply at home.

Jameson says one of his favorite parts of participating in the Flower + Patio Show is the opportunity to connect with people who share a love for plants and outdoor living.

“Horticulture is my passion, and one of my favorite parts of the Flower + Patio Show is helping people realize they don’t need a green thumb to get started,” Jameson said. “Gardening is a learned skill, and sometimes all it takes is planting that first seed and sticking with it.”

Join Todd Jameson of Balanced Harvest Flower Farm at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show for expert tips on flowers, seasonal design and gardening at home during his stage presentations throughout the show.

We Are County Materials

Our concrete products are trusted by construction professionals to help build the growing communities where Americans live, work and play. We supply projects of all sizes for infrastructure, transportation, commercial, agricultural, municipal, and residential construction applications. Since 1946, our organization has grown to become a national leader in the construction industry.

Since 1996 Trex has invented, defined, and perfected the composite deck category, becoming the world's largest manufacturer of wood-alternative decking products. Never content to settle, we continue to make strides in outdoor engineering, melding innovation with environmental responsibility and beautiful form with powerful function. There's a reason we're the world's #1 decking brand: we offer the most innovative, technologically advanced outdoor living products available today. As the first company to combine the durability of recycled plastic with the natural beauty of reclaimed wood in a high-performance decking product, we lead the way in applying this proprietary technology to a wide variety of outdoor applications for low-maintenance, luxurious outdoor living.

For more than 110 years, the Better Business Bureau has helped people find businesses, brands and charities they can trust. BBB Accreditation sets a business apart, assuring consumers they're dealing with an ethical, vetted company. That's why the BBB Seal remains a powerful symbol of trust in the marketplace as The Sign of a Better Business™. In 2024, people visited BBB.org over 220 million times to view free BBB Business Profiles on more than 5.3 million businesses.

The Indianapolis Landscape Association was organized on March 16, 1942 in the office of the Midwestern Tree Experts Company, in New Augusta, Indiana. It was created to promote better acquaintance and fellowship among local nursery and landscaping firms, to encourage high ethical standards and furthering membership knowledge of green industry matters. www.indylandscape.com

Need Help with Medicare Costs?

If your income is less than $2,500/month and you have limited assets, you may qualify for help with medical costs not covered by Medicare and with prescription drug expenses.

The State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP) is a free and impartial counseling program for people with Medicare. SHIP is provided by the Administration for Community Living and the Indiana Department of Insurance. We are part of a federal network of State Health Insurance Assistance Programs located in every state. All of our services are free.

Blooming Sale

Spot something in an Indiana Flower + Patio Show garden you can't live without? Almost all plant materials, hardscapes, structures and decorative pieces used to create the magnificent gardens at this year's event are available at our annual Blooming Sale — on the final Sunday of the show, March 22 at 5 p.m.!

Children's Entrepreneur Market Blooms at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show

Young business owners showcase creativity, craftsmanship and spring-inspired products

For the first time, the Children's Entrepreneur Market will bring its inspiring lineup of young business owners to the Indiana Flower + Patio Show, giving attendees a chance to shop unique, handmade goods created by local entrepreneurs ages 5-17.

The Children's Entrepreneur Market features dozens of youth-run businesses, each operated entirely by its young founder. Participants manage every aspect of their business — from explaining their products and interacting with customers to handling payments and counting change — gaining real-world experience in entrepreneurship, communication and confidence.

At the Flower + Patio Show, shoppers can browse a wide variety of spring- and outdoor-inspired products, including handmade jewelry, candles and wax melts, potted succulents with custom plant stakes, garden décor, accessories, crochet items, 3D-printed goods and more. The market offers a family-friendly shopping experience while supporting the next generation of creative thinkers and business leaders.

"I'm thrilled to partner with the Indiana Flower and Patio Show and bring the Children's Entrepreneur Market to this amazing event," said Kerri Melson, Indianapolis market manager for the Children's Entrepreneur Market. "Young entrepreneurs will have the opportunity to set up shop and develop essential skills like leadership, financial literacy, and customer engagement in a real marketplace, all while being supported by a community that believes in their potential."

Founded in Utah in 2017, the award-winning Children's Entrepreneur Market has grown to nearly 400 cities nationwide, hosting more than 1,200 markets, supporting over 86,000 youth entrepreneurs and generating more than $9 million in revenue for young business owners.

The Children's Entrepreneur Market will be open weekends only during the Indiana Flower + Patio Show on Saturday–Sunday, March 14–15 and March 21–22, offering attendees a chance to meet these young entrepreneurs and support their growing businesses.

Cora the Flower Truck Offers Bouquets of Beauty

Cindy Ward with Rusted Kreations shares love of flowers through Cora

“As a child, my grandma always had a huge flower garden – and she would let us go out into the garden and pick whatever we wanted. No restrictions or guidelines on what we could or couldn’t pick. It was such a special thing for me.”

Cindy Ward’s passion for flowers began with her grandma’s flower garden, continued in her love for gardening and then to the creation of her own flower farm in 2023.

“I’ve always given my flowers out as bouquets and even had a place in town I would take them and give them away for free,” Ward said. “Then I would get thank you notes from people in the community, telling me how much they enjoyed the flowers, and that really meant a lot to me.” Cindy and her husband brainstormed a way to combine her passion for flowers with his passion for old cars – and Cora the Flower Truck was born.

“After some research, we found a 1965 Ford Econoline,” Cindy said. “She was in rough shape, but my husband loves to restore rustic items.” That’s how they came up with the business name – Rusted Kreations. And Cora is named after Cindy’s grandma, the one who began her affection for all things floral. It’s been a labor of love, and Cindy is ready to share it with everyone at the Flower + Patio Show!

“We’ve had a lot of success so far with taking Cora out in the community,” Ward said. “She’s been to the farmers market and other community events, and we’re thrilled to bring her to the Flower + Patio Show this year.” What kinds of flowers can you choose from? Everything from sunflowers and roses to mums and daisies. There will be a fresh variety each day of the show, and Flower + Patio Show attendees can stop by Cora, make their own bouquet and take it home to enjoy!

“When people approach Cora, I get to hear lots of stories from both men and women about memories of their childhood and growing up. Someone’s grandpa used to have a truck like Cora or someone’s grandma grew this or that variety of flowers. I really enjoy bringing joy to people – and if the simple act of buying a flower from Cora brings them joy, it makes me feel good.”

Come see Cindy with Rusted Kreations at the Flower + Patio Show! Make and take your own beautiful bouquet when you visit Cora the Flower Truck in the West Pavilion.

Jenn Nawada Brings Outdoor Design Inspiration to the Indiana Flower + Patio Show

This Old House Landscape Expert shares practical tips and expert insight on creating beautiful, functional outdoor spaces

Jenn Nawada, the official landscape contractor for This Old House and Ask This Old House, will make a special appearance at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show, offering expert insight into outdoor living, landscape design, and sustainable solutions for today's homeowners.

With more than 20 years of experience in landscape design and construction, Jenn has built a reputation for creating outdoor spaces that are sophisticated, functional, and environmentally responsible. She founded Nawada Landscape Design, Inc. in the Boston area, where she designs and manages residential landscape projects from concept to completion, collaborating with some of the region's top tradespeople to bring her clients' visions to life.

Jenn first joined This Old House in 2010 as the landscape designer for the Auburndale project, working alongside longtime landscape expert Roger Cook. She became a regular on Ask This Old House in 2015 and was named the official landscape contractor for This Old House in January 2020. Through her television work, Jenn is known for translating complex landscaping challenges into practical, real-world solutions homeowners can apply to their own properties.

At the Flower + Patio Show, Jenn will share tips and inspiration for designing outdoor spaces that enhance everyday living — from thoughtful plant selection and garden design to patios, walkways, and sustainable landscape planning. Her sessions are designed to help homeowners make the most of their outdoor spaces, whether tackling a full renovation or planning seasonal updates.

Jenn holds a Bachelor of Arts in Environmental Studies from Rollins College and a Master of Arts in Landscape Design and Land Use Planning from the Conway

School of Landscape Design. She is a Massachusetts Certified Horticulturist and licensed Home Improvement Contractor. She lives in the Boston area with her husband and two sons in an early 1900s home she continues to restore and reimagine — one project at a time.

Jenn Nawada appears at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show on Friday, March 20 at 5:00 p.m. and on Saturday, March 21 at Noon.

Exclusive Sewing Down South Pillow Giveaways Bring Spring Style to the Indiana Flower + Patio Show

Custom designs created with Craig Conover offer attendees a chance to refresh their home décor

The Indiana Flower + Patio Show is teaming up with Craig Conover and his lifestyle brand Sewing Down South to give attendees an exclusive opportunity to take home custom-designed pillow covers inspired by spring.

Working directly with Craig and the Sewing Down South team, the Flower + Patio Show created a limited-edition lumbar pillow cover available in two unique hydrangea patterns designed to celebrate the season. The custom covers will be given away Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the show to the first 75 attendees through the doors each day, while supplies last, in the West Pavilion only.

In addition to the daily giveaways, attendees can enter for a chance to win “Pillows for a Year” — a sweepstakes featuring 12 pillows (six sets) from Sewing Down South. The prize package includes pillows from the brand’s modern, coastal, holiday, and bees & florals collections, along with custom Home Show pillows and a set of the winner’s choice. The prize also includes inserts for oversized (22x22-inch) and lumbar (16x19-inch) pillows, making it easy to swap seasonal covers throughout the year and store them with ease.

The Sewing Down South pillow giveaways and sweepstakes add a stylish, design-forward experience to this year’s Flower + Patio Show, giving attendees fresh inspiration for updating their homes just in time for spring.

Sweepstakes entries are open January 1 through April 12, 2026. Enter for your chance to win on The Flower + Patio Show website.

Local Farmer-Florist Kolab Walden Shares Easy, Budget-Friendly Ways to Start Seeds Early

Learn how everyday containers can help gardeners get a head start on spring

Kolab Walden, owner of Kolab's Flowers, will bring a practical, beginner-friendly gardening lesson to the Indiana Flower + Patio Show with her presentation, "The Joy of Winter Sowing: No Greenhouse. No Grow Lights. No Problem."

The session focuses on winter sowing, an easy and cost-effective way to start seeds early without specialized equipment. Walden demonstrates how common household items such as milk cartons, water bottles, food containers and jugs can be transformed into mini greenhouses. By planting seeds in these containers and placing them outdoors, gardeners can let natural weather cycles do the work, producing strong seedlings that are ready to plant as soon as spring arrives.

During the presentation, Walden will share examples of flowers that are especially well-suited for winter sowing and explain how this simple method helps gardeners achieve earlier blooms and healthier plants. The process requires only a few basic supplies — seeds, potting soil, duct tape and a garden marker — making it accessible for gardeners of all experience levels.

A lifelong flower lover, Walden grew up gardening with her family and developed an early appreciation for watching seeds grow into vibrant blooms. She later earned a Bachelor of Science in Nursing and spent years caring for others before turning her passion for flowers into a business. After completing formal training in floral design and business, she founded Kolab's Flowers, a farmerflorist studio based in Indianapolis.

Kolab's Flowers specializes in organically grown, locally sourced blooms and advocates for using local flowers to reduce environmental impact. Walden grows seasonal flowers in her cutting garden, creating one-of-a-kind floral designs that reflect what is naturally in bloom throughout the year.

Walden's presentation at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show offers attendees an opportunity to learn a simple, sustainable gardening technique while gaining inspiration from a local business owner who turned a lifelong passion into a thriving floral studio.

Kolab Walden appears at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show on Sunday at March 15, 3:00 p.m. and Wednesday, March 18 at 2:00 p.m.

After winter's chill begins to thaw, the Plant Market is the best place to get a sneak peek at all the sights and scents of the upcoming spring season. One of the most popular features at the Flower + Patio Show, the PLANT MARKET has everything from fresh flowers and plants to gardening supplies right at your fingertips. And you can't miss it — it's right at the entrance of West Pavilion and Expo Hall.

Abby's Garden Parties Returns to the Indiana Flower + Patio Show With Hands-On Tips for Terrariums and Houseplants

Stage presentations offer practical advice for indoor gardening success

Abby Perry, founder of Abby's Garden Parties, returns to the Indiana Flower + Patio Show to share her approachable, hands-on expertise through two stage presentations focused on terrarium building and houseplant care.

A familiar face at the Flower + Patio Show, Perry is known for helping gardeners of all experience levels feel confident working with plants. Her journey into the world of gardening and terrariums began during the pandemic, inspired by a simple request from her daughter to build a terrarium together. What started as a creative family activity quickly grew into a business centered on connection, creativity and bringing people closer to nature.

At this year's show, Perry will present "Terrarium Building," where attendees will learn the basics of creating and maintaining their own miniature plant worlds, as well as "House Plant Care," offering practical tips to help indoor plants thrive year-round. Her sessions focus on setting plant owners up for success with realistic advice that fits into everyday life.

Perry's presentations reflect the same welcoming, hands-on experience guests can find at Abby's Garden Parties' terrarium and plant shop in downtown Zionsville. The space encourages visitors to trade screen time for "green time" by getting their hands a little dirty, learning about plants in a relaxed environment and creating something meaningful to take home.

Through her work, Perry emphasizes that gardening doesn't have to be intimidating to be rewarding. Her goal is to make indoor gardening accessible, enjoyable and confidence-building — whether someone is caring for their first houseplant or expanding an existing collection.

Abby's Garden Parties continues to be a popular stop at the Flower + Patio Show, offering attendees inspiration, education and a reminder that working with plants can be both creative and calming.

Join Abby at the Flower + Patio Show for expert tips on indoor plants and building a personalized terrarium on stage Saturday, March 14 and Wednesday, March 18!

Purdue Extension Master Gardeners are Helping Others Grow!

Presentations highlight the scientific and practical sides of gardening

Are you a gardening enthusiast? Would you like to learn more about home horticulture in Indiana and share your knowledge with others? That's what the Purdue Extension Master Gardener Program offers — truly “helping others grow!”

Extension Master Gardener volunteers complete at least 40 hours of training in consumer horticulture, pass a final exam, and commit to ongoing volunteer and continuing education activities to expand their horticulture skills and help their community grow.

In 2025, more than 2,700 volunteers gave more than 168,000 hours, valued at more than $5 million! Indiana's Purdue Extension Master Gardener Program began in 1978 with four participating counties. Currently, more than 50 Indiana counties have active Extension Master Gardener programs.

At this year's Indiana Flower + Patio Show, Karen Mitchell will present “One Cutting, Countless Connections: Plant Propagation with Purpose.” This hands-on demonstration introduces simple propagation techniques, including stem tip and leaf cuttings, and shows how one small cutting can grow into something meaningful. Participants will learn practical skills to grow, clone and share plants, while also exploring how plant propagation supports horticultural education, strengthens community outreach and encourages new gardeners to get involved.

“Now in my 5th year at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show, I'm excited to return with a new program focused on plant propagation and how one small cutting can inspire new gardeners and strengthen community connections,” said Mitchell.

Fellow Master Gardeners Mike Hathaway and Kathryn Reeves will co-present “Great Tips for Growing Vegetables in Containers Year Round.” Mitchell is a Purdue Consumer Horticulture Extension Specialist, focused on programming for community gardens and home horticulture. Both retired Purdue University staff members, Reeves and Hathaway conduct container garden demonstrations at Purdue's annual Spring Fest. Together, they also grow flowers and vegetables indoors and outdoors every year.

For more information, visit www.hort.purdue.edu/mg.

Visit and learn from the Master Gardeners at Booth #506. Master Gardeners Kathryn Reeves and Mike Hathaway appear on Thursday, March 19 at 12:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m. and Purdue Consumer Horticulture Extension Specialist Karen Mitchell appears on stage on Friday, March 20 at 11:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.
