Indianapolis Landscape Association Presents Feature Gardens Mixing Modern and Rustic Designs

More Flower + Patio Show landscapers with signature styles

The Indianapolis Landscape Association's feature gardens in both West Pavilion and Expo Hall are brimming with color — from gorgeous greens to beautiful blues and everything in between. The area's top landscape professionals have a variety of affordable to big-budget options for your next garden or backyard project.

"We are excited and thrilled to support the Showcase Gardens and the independent landscape companies participating this year," said Indianapolis Landscape Association President Chris Geryak.

This year, Ladd Scape LLC returns with two gorgeous gardens where pavers and natural stone unite in a seamless blend of beauty, functionality and tranquility. Wander along winding pathways adorned with the rustic charm of natural stone features — each element meticulously crafted to enhance the aesthetic while serving a practical purpose.

"Whether you seek a peaceful retreat or a vibrant space to entertain, our gardens offer a sanctuary where timeless design and natural beauty converge, providing an enchanting and functional outdoor experience like no other," said Ladd Scape founder Kevin Ladd.

Josh Perkins, landscape architect with Plant Studio Landscape, said they are highlighting a full outdoor living experience, complete with a fully-functioning spa.

"A single path walks through our garden and then up to an amazing in-ground spa," he said. "Stairs wrap around the spa so guests can walk up to a patio level and be able to have that experience of looking down onto the spa level from above. We are mixing natural stone and pavers throughout the garden and will also have some blooming trees and shrubs that will really give it that outdoorsy feel to bring the excitement of spring. Plus, we're tying in playful and fun ways to engage kids and families while they visit the Flower and Patio Show."

Heath Outdoor's garden also showcases a mix of modern and rustic designs in a welcoming backyard environment.

"The garden includes an inspiring water feature complete with a waterfall and floating patio, created using Belgard pavers," said Heath Outdoor Director of Urban Marketplace Amy Lapka. "Guests will explore a vintage horse trailer, retrofitted into a stylish and surprising backyard mobile office. Limestone garden walls, made with material from The Stone Center, guide visitors through garden pathways where they can admire and enjoy lush green spaces and a modern fire pit area. Adjacent to this space, guests can shop for plants and gifts from Heath Outdoor's retail shop, Digs Garden Center, and enjoy Digs' industrial and farm inspired environment."

With Precision Outdoors, Managing Partner Caleb Harbert is excited not only for their contemporary garden space but also for what they'll be showing off in their additional booth space — a look at new virtual reality (VR) design technology.

"Our garden will be decked out with all the different aspects of outdoor living to showcase how you can integrate them together, including a pool with floating steps, an outdoor kitchen and a sunken fire pit area along with privacy screens," Harbert said. "We want to show off what we can do in our garden space and then highlight the future of design with an immersive VR experience in our booth space. Show attendees will actually be able to see their backyard project come to life right before their eyes through a VR simulation. This is the future of what I believe design will be — when you can create what you want your backyard or outdoor living space to look like and then actually get to walk around in it virtually before we even begin digging. It's pretty amazing, and we're excited to show people at the Flower and Patio Show!"

Custom Wagons, Décor and Merchandise

Once again, Flower + Patio Show attendees will get to see how Woolywagons magically mixes old-fashioned charm with modern amenities, using 100-year-old barn wood to build tiny homes on wheels.

Established in 2008 and inspired by founder Steve Auth's ranching experiences, Woolywagons specializes in wagons fit for outdoor living. The Woolywagons team has clients across the country — from campgrounds and glamping grounds to individual clients who are interested in a unique, personal space in which they can feel at home.

In addition to five wagon homes, the team will showcase decorative products and new company merchandise at this year's Flower + Patio Show.

"We will be constructing a mock ceiling and wall to showcase our pendant lights, which are designed for easy length adjustments and simple customer installation," said Woolywagons co-owner Colby Pringle. "As with everything we do at Woolywagons, these too can be customized — by number of pendants, length and width. The true beauty of this custom product is that there will never be two identical lights ever made."

Other specialty items on display and for sale include wooden porch chairs, planters, signs framed in barn wood, and stained glass pieces — all built by the skilled hands of the Woolywagons team.

"We quickly learned that a lot of the visitors from last year's show truly want to support us and own something created by the phenomenal team we have at Woolywagons," Pringle said. "To help spread the word, we'll have Woolywagons hoodies on sale this year. My wife and Woolywagons co-owner Lindsay Pringle created an amazing logo and put it on what I consider the most comfortable hoodie ever made! As with everything we ever put our name on, quality will never be sacrificed."

Decking Experts Battle It Out For The Top Prize

Three contractors face off in Deck Wars competition, sponsored by Trex

Who can build the most dynamite deck? Three Central Indiana contractors duke it out to answer that question. The Deck Wars competition is sponsored by Trex, the world's largest manufacturer of wood-alternative decking and railing products.

"We've been a sponsor of the Deck Wars competition since 2020, and we really enjoy getting to interact with the participating deck contractors. It is our goal to help them grow their business and get additional exposure at the Flower and Patio Show," said Adam Hochstedler, account manager with Trex. "All three contractors put out a high-quality product, and I'm excited to see what their end designs will look like."

The participating contractors are AdvanceDeck & Sunroom of Indiana, Paradigm Construction, and T&T Construction.

These decking experts each get a 20x20-foot space in Exposition Hall to design and build one-of-a-kind decks — and Flower + Patio Show attendees will choose the winner, decided on Friday, March 15 at 5 p.m.!

"I enjoy the freedom to come up with a design that allows us to show off our creativity and technical abilities," said John Hile, owner of AdvanceDeck & Sunroom. "Our deck will definitely be a functional space but one that is also aesthetically pleasing. It's a challenge to figure out what to do with the space, but I like experimenting with things like color scheme and getting the chance to think outside the box with the amazing Trex materials. Plus, our team always enjoys the friendly competition."

"At Paradigm Construction, we recognize the diversity of living situations and individual ideas," said Ivan Ruiz, project and sales manager at Paradigm Construction. "We work to maximize limited space as well as merge indoor and outdoor living, turning consumers' ideas into realities. Our deck will be one of our unique concepts brought to life as it will be re-constructed at our office, visible from the upcoming Nickel Plate Trail after the show."

Taylor Brinneman, co-owner at T&T Construction, said his company creates spaces that not only captivate the eye but also stand the test of time. "T&T Construction ensures our projects showcase the highest standards of craftsmanship. Our technical proficiency is evident in the integration of Trex decking, where each board is placed to create a harmonious and durable outdoor living experience. For Deck Wars, T&T Construction will highlight a mastery of artistry and functionality in outdoor design."

"We hope Flower and Patio Show attendees check out the Deck Wars competition," Hochstedler said. "It's a great way for consumers who are thinking about expanding their backyards to explore these decks and visualize the possibilities for their outdoor living spaces."

Check out all three deck spaces in Exposition Hall at the Flower + Patio Show, and vote for your favorite!

Garden Inspired Living with Linda Vater

Garden designer and lifestyle influencer is author of “The Elegant & Edible Garden”

Linda Vater is a self-taught garden designer, blogger and lifestyle influencer who also writes and produces garden media for TV, magazines, Instagram, YouTube and the web. She has lived and gardened for more than 30 years in her 1935 English Tudor home before moving to her very lively “Cottage on the Hill” in Oklahoma City.

With a product line on QVC, Linda has been featured in numerous national magazines, news segments and videos. She is also the author of “The Elegant & Edible Garden.” In this book, Linda shares her vision for creating a garden space where food and flowers grow side by side. Known as a potager, these gardens are formal in their framework yet flexible and personal in their edible yields. A potager garden is both lovely to look at and productive. Doubling as an outdoor living area, it is also the perfect place to entertain family and friends.

“The Elegant & Edible Garden” is a vision of the very best things a garden can offer — food, beauty, connection and a place to breathe. A plant fanatic, Linda’s favorites are evergreens and topiaries. And her tip for making a big impact in landscaping or curb appeal is to go big!

“Go big in the containers you use,” she said. “Make a statement by using various sizes and mixing them throughout your landscape. They provide dimension and allow flexibility for what you can plant — trees, shrubs and more. Larger containers can also handle the stressors of heat and cold, and you don’t have to water as much!”

Linda looks at everything — her home, family, travel and life’s biggest questions — through a gardening lens. Gardening has helped her raise two boys, be a better friend and neighbor, learn resilience, and, at times, saved her sanity. She often says gardening is simultaneously one of the most joyous and frustrating things she does.

Join Linda Vater on this great adventure that is gardening! She appears at the Flower + Patio Show on Saturday, March 16 and Sunday, March 17.

Purdue Extension Master Gardeners are Helping Others Grow!

Presentation focuses on the importance of a healthy garden ecology

Are you a gardening enthusiast? Would you like to learn more about home horticulture in Indiana and share your knowledge with others? That’s what the Purdue Extension Master Gardener Program offers — truly “helping others grow!”

In 2023, more than 2,600 volunteers gave more than 163,000 hours, valued at more than $4.6 million! Indiana’s Purdue Extension Master Gardener Program began in 1978 with four participating counties. Currently, more than 50 Indiana counties have active Extension Master Gardener programs.

The Purdue Extension Master Gardener Program makes the latest information about gardening and home horticulture available to individuals with a deep interest in gardening. Then, those gardening enthusiasts share what they have learned by leading and offering services in educational gardening activities in their communities throughout Indiana.

Extension Master Gardener volunteers complete at least 40 hours of training in consumer horticulture, pass a final exam, and commit to ongoing volunteer and continuing education activities to expand their horticulture skills and help their community grow. For more information, visit www.hort.purdue.edu/mg.

Karen Mitchell

At this year’s Flower + Patio Show, Karen Mitchell presents “Wild by Design: The Art of Gardening for Wildlife.” Mitchell is a Purdue Consumer Horticulture Extension Specialist. Her passion for plants led her to complete a bachelor’s in horticulture and a master’s in botany at Purdue University. She served as the ag and natural resources Extension Educator in Tippecanoe County before transitioning onto campus, where she continues her statewide extension programming for community gardens and home horticulture.

“As a gardener, you are a steward of the land and the life it supports — even a small garden can provide sanctuary for birds, insects and other wildlife,” Mitchell said. “My presentation highlights the importance of a healthy garden ecology and provides steps for supporting biodiversity in the home landscape. It’s more than just the cultivation of plants; it’s the creation of tiny nature preserves right outside your window.”

Visit the Purdue Plant Info to Go Booth #508 in Exposition Hall to get answers to your gardening questions! And Purdue Consumer Horticulture Extension Specialist Karen Mitchell appears on stage on Friday, March 15.

10 No-Fail Native Plants for the Indiana Landscape

Hoosier Gardener offers tips on how to care for those plants that can withstand the Hoosier environment

Jo Ellen Meyers Sharp is the Hoosier Gardener, and she's presenting "10 No-Fail Native Plants for the Indiana Landscape" — plus tips for their care. These are easy-to-grow native plants that gardeners can appreciate for their beauty and their support of pollinators.

Jo Ellen is a 30-year, award-winning veteran of print journalism and owner of Write for You! LLC, a freelance writing and editing business. Her stories have appeared in several national and local publications, including "American Gardener," "My Indiana Home," "Edible Indy," "Family Handyman" and more. You can find her blog at hoosiergardener.com, where she offers an informed, yet personal take on natural gardening in Indiana. She's also a popular speaker, and you can find some of her topics at her blog.

Jo Ellen is a past president of GardenComm: Garden Communicators International, an organization of professional communicators in the green industry, educating others about horticulture, agriculture, gardening, natural systems and the environment. She also is a garden coach and has a four-season commercial and residential container planting business.

For two decades, she worked at a large, independent garden center in Indianapolis, including a stint as buyer of perennials, trees and shrubs. She's co-author of the "Indiana Gardener's Guide," author of "The Visitor's Guide to American Gardens," and contributor to "Oxford Companion to the Garden" and "Phaidon's The Gardener's Garden."

Veggie & Vine Creatively Connects Through Flowers

Find new ways to express yourself with floral arranging

Agriculture and education are the drivers for Kayla Meyer and her business, Veggie and Vine. Kayla is a wife, mother, elementary teacher and flower lover. These titles allow her to creatively connect with participants of all backgrounds and stages of life to bring beauty to their homes and special events.

Veggie and Vine offers a come-to-you flower arranging class that helps people create fun and festive designs for their seasonal home décor. This service is available both for private events and through pop-up classes at local wineries and breweries. From bouquets to wreaths and garlands, Veggie and Vine gives your annual decorations a personal touch.

"I combine teaching people about flowers and educating them on how to arrange them," Kayla said. "I love being able to show people more about an activity they might not know about. Seeing their excitement keeps me going. At our classes, all flowers, vases and snips are provided. Then I teach step by step on how to arrange flowers in a vase, garland or wreath!”

Veggie and Vine started in 2019 with Kayla doing flower classes at people’s homes and other private events. She is from Illinois and grew up farming and in the agriculture industry. She pursued her undergraduate degree in agricultural education and received her master’s degree in elementary education. When she moved, she missed the side of her that grew up on the farm, so she created a business that would bring education and agriculture together.

“I really enjoy it, and I love to hear about the excitement behind each class,” she said. In addition to instructor-led flower workshops, Veggie and Vine offers custom orders for events — bridal shower flowers, baby shower flowers, performance bouquets and other season décor.

At the Flower + Patio Show, Kayla presents “How to Create an Easter-Inspired Flower Basket” and “Spring Flower Design,” where you can watch as Kayla designs a spring flower piece that will inspire you to create one in your own home.

Kayla from Veggie and Vine will appear at the Flower + Patio Show on Sunday, March 10 and Tuesday, March 12.

Build Your Own Terrarium with Abby’s Garden Parties

A fun way to express creativity by playing in the dirt

Abby Perry, founder of Abby’s Garden Parties, is a passionate advocate for connecting people with nature through hands-on experiences. With a background in psychology from the University of Michigan and a former career in pharmaceutical sales, she found her true calling in spreading her love for gardening.

Perry’s journey began during the pandemic when her daughter’s request for a terrarium sparked the idea to share this calming and creative experience with others. As a Hamilton County Master Gardener, she brings expertise and joy to every event, aiming to make Indiana greener one terrarium at a time.

At Abby’s Garden Parties, Perry aims to provide not just a terrarium-making experience, but also a mental health boost and an opportunity for creativity. She believes in the motto “trade a little screen time for some green time,” emphasizing the importance of unplugging and engaging in nature.

Through her booth at the Indiana Flower + Patio Show, visitors can immerse themselves in the wonderful world of succulents or create their own terrariums, guided by Perry’s expertise and passion. Her mission extends beyond just selling plants — it’s about setting people up for success by providing the right plants and instructions to nurture their green companions.

Abby’s Garden Parties offers a unique and enjoyable experience where participants of all ages can reconnect with nature, create lasting memories and take home a piece of green inspiration.

Join Abby at Booth #510 to learn more about terrariums and creating a little plant world perfect for your next party! Plus, Abby appears on stage in Expo Hall on Wednesday, March 13 and Saturday, March 16 with “Insights and Tips on Indoor Succulents and the Transformative Power of Gardening.”

Cora the Flower Truck Offers Bouquets of Beauty

Cindy Ward with Rusted Kreations shares love of flowers through Cora

“As a child, my grandma always had a huge flower garden — and she would let us go out into the garden and pick whatever we wanted. No restrictions or guidelines on what we could or couldn’t pick. It was such a special thing for me.”

Cindy Ward’s passion for flowers began with her grandma’s flower garden, continued in her love for gardening and then to the creation of her own flower farm in 2023.

“I’ve always given my flowers out as bouquets and even had a place in town I would take them and give them away for free,” Ward said. “Then I would get thank you notes from people in the community, telling me how much they enjoyed the flowers, and that really meant a lot to me.” Cindy and her husband brainstormed a way to combine her passion for flowers with his passion for old cars — and Cora the Flower Truck was born.

“After some research, we found a 1965 Ford Econoline,” Cindy said. “She was in rough shape, but my husband loves to restore rustic items.” That’s how they came up with the business name — Rusted Kreations. And Cora is named after Cindy’s grandma, the one who began her affection for all things floral. It’s been a labor of love, and Cindy is ready to share it with everyone at the Flower + Patio Show!

“We’ve had a lot of success so far with taking Cora out in the community,” Ward said. “She’s been to the farmers market and other community events, and we’re thrilled to bring her to the Flower and Patio Show this year.” What kinds of flowers can you choose from? Everything from sunflowers and roses to mums and daisies. There will be a fresh variety each day of the show, and Flower and Patio Show attendees can stop by Cora, make their own bouquet and take it home to enjoy!

“When people approach Cora, I get to hear lots of stories from both men and women about memories of their childhood and growing up. Someone’s grandpa used to have a truck like Cora or someone’s grandma grew this or that variety of flowers. I really enjoy bringing joy to people — and if the simple act of buying a flower from Cora brings them joy, it makes me feel good.”

Come see Cindy with Rusted Kreations at the Flower + Patio Show! Make and take your own beautiful bouquet when you visit Cora the Flower Truck at the south end of the West Pavilion.

Rest and Relax at the Oberfields Tulip Tavern

Tavern designed and constructed by Lakeshore Hardscapes

Need a place to rest and recharge during your visit to the Flower + Patio Show? Visit the Oberfields Tulip Tavern in West Pavilion.

Designed and constructed by Lakeshore Hardscapes, the full-service tavern invites show attendees to enjoy a variety of craft beers, domestics, wine and spirits in a unique outdoor setting.

“We are excited to partner again with our sponsor, Oberfields, who has provided all the hardscape materials for the Tulip Tavern as well as the stage,” said Robb Lester of Lakeshore Hardscapes. “The Tulip Tavern — along with all our gardens and outdoor spaces — is inspired by ideas that make sense and are practical for people to actually incorporate into their own home.”

Oberfields Tulip Tavern is directly across from the Lakeshore Hardscapes featured garden in West Pavilion. Lakeshore Hardscapes’ mission is to create backyard features that fit any home.

“We have done projects all over the state of Indiana, installing everything from paver patios and retaining walls to fire pits, fireplaces and pergolas,” Lester said. “We hope all attendees to the Flower and Patio Show can stop by the Tulip Tavern and take a break while getting some ideas to update their outdoor living space or even start a new project.”

“The Flower and Patio Show is a great opportunity for consumers to spend time walking around, browsing and getting inspiration for their backyard or outdoor living space,” said Jenipher Skaggs, territory manager with Oberfields. “We wanted to come back as a sponsor of the Tulip Tavern again this year as we continue to grow our presence in Indiana. We get the chance to connect with Hoosiers face to face and talk to them about what ideas and dreams they have for their outdoor projects. And Lakeshore Hardscapes always creates an amazing space for everyone to come sit, relax and enjoy!”

Grab a drink and relax! Check out the Oberfields Tulip Tavern, designed and constructed by Lakeshore Hardscapes, in West Pavilion at this year’s Flower + Patio Show.
