Celebrity Guest

CRAIG CONOVER

Sewing Dreams to Business Success:
Meet Bravo's Craig Conover of Southern Charm

CRAIG CONOVER, the charismatic star of Bravo's Southern Charm, has woven his passion for sewing into a thriving business. With the launch of his brand Sewing Down South, Craig is proving that creativity, persistence, and a touch of Southern charm can transform a hobby into a lifestyle empire. Fresh off the opening of his new retail store in Nashville, Craig sat down to talk about his journey, his inspirations, and his favorite home and design tips.

A New Stitch in Nashville

Q: Why did you choose Nashville to open your Sewing Down South store?

"I've always loved Nashville. Opening a store here has always been a goal of mine and felt like a natural extension of our store in downtown Charleston. The people, the culture, the food, the music—Nashville brings together a great mix of new ideas, and we wanted to be part of that fabric. We value what our customers say, and we've been listening to them when they said come to Nashville. So here we are!"

Sewing as a Business

Q: How did you turn your passion for sewing into a business?

"I've always believed in pursuing our own creative endeavors. I developed a passion for sewing during home-economics class in the eighth grade. It wasn't always easy—I faced ridicule and criticism—but I didn't let it stop me. When my designs started getting attention on social media, I knew there was something there. With the help of my business partners, Jerry and Amanda, Sewing Down South became a reality. Now, it's exciting to see what the future holds."

Podcast Meets Business

Q: How does your podcast, Pillows and Beer, impact Sewing Down South?
 "I started Pillows and Beer with my friend and Southern Charm castmate, Austen Kroll. It gives us the chance to connect with fans and share what's happening in our lives. Going on tour for the podcast has allowed us to meet people across the country and experience new cultures. That inspiration often translates into ideas for Sewing Down South."

Face-to-Face Marketing

Q: From a marketing perspective, what's the best initiative to build your brand?
 "Even with social media helping spread your message globally, you can't go wrong with good old-fashioned face-to-face interactions. That's why we love coming to shows—it's an opportunity to meet new people, have conversations, feel different fabrics and products, and get inspired by others."

Craig's Home & Design Advice

Q: What home gadget or tool should every homeowner own?
 "A cordless drill and a basic household tool kit. They'll help you tackle most basic repairs or DIY projects around the house."
Q: What's your favorite HGTV or DIY Network series?
Breaking Bland with Mary Welch Fox. I know her personally in Charleston, and it's so cool to see her with her own show."

Q: Best home purchase for under $100?
 "I'm a big believer in home organization tools like storage bins and baskets. They make it easier to find things and help tidy up your home or garage. For inside the house, accent pieces like throw pillows, blankets, wall art, mirrors, or even plants (real or fake) are great affordable options."

Q: What's one project you tell people to NOT do as a DIY?
 "I wouldn't DIY plumbing—leave that to the professionals. And I steer clear of electricity, too. I got electrocuted once when I was younger, and it still freaks me out!"
Q: What's one outdoor tip for big impact in landscaping or curb appeal?
 "Keep it simple. Don't overcrowd your space. Leave room for plants to grow and create a clean, inviting look that draws the eye."

What's Next for Craig and Sewing Down South?

Craig's journey from sewing enthusiast to business mogul is nothing short of inspiring. With his new Nashville store, podcast tours, and a growing list of design collaborations, Craig is proving that following your passion can lead to unexpected success.

THE ART OF ACCESSORIES

Elevating Your Home Décor Without Breaking the Bank

Accessories are the final touch that turns a house into a home. They express personality, set the tone of a space, and tie together all the elements of a room. Yet, many homeowners overlook their importance, or worse, overspend on pieces that don't truly add value. The good news? You don't need a hefty budget to decorate with accessories that look expensive. With a little creativity and some insider tips, you can achieve a polished and stylish home that feels uniquely yours.

THE ROLE OF ACCESSORIES IN HOME DESIGN

Accessories act like jewelry for your home. Just as a necklace or a pair of earrings completes an outfit, accessories like throw pillows, rugs, art, and tabletop décor complete a room. They add texture, color, and depth while creating a sense of balance and harmony. The key is choosing pieces that not only complement your overall design aesthetic but also feel personal and meaningful.

HOW TO CHOOSE THE RIGHT ACCESSORIES

Start with a Plan. Before you begin accessorizing, determine the mood and color palette of your space. Are you going for a minimalist vibe, or do you love the eclectic charm of mixed patterns? Knowing this will help you select accessories that fit cohesively with your style.

Prioritize Quality Over Quantity. A few carefully chosen accessories will always look better than clutter. Choose pieces that are timeless and versatile, so they work across different seasons or as your tastes evolve.

Layering is Key. Just like layering fabrics or furniture, layering accessories adds depth to your design. Mix items of varying heights, textures, and materials on surfaces like coffee tables, bookshelves, and sideboards. For example, pair a textured vase with a glossy photo frame and a stack of books for a balanced yet dynamic look.

Incorporate Nature. Greenery is one of the simplest and most affordable ways to accessorize your home. Whether it's a potted plant, a fresh bouquet, or faux greenery, adding a natural element instantly breathes life into a space.

AFFORDABLE WAYS TO ACCESSORIZE YOUR HOME

Decorating doesn't have to cost a fortune. With these cost-saving tips, you can achieve a high-end look for less:

Shop Secondhand. Thrift stores, flea markets, and estate sales are treasure troves for unique accessories. Look for items like vintage mirrors, art prints, and brass candlesticks that can be cleaned or refurbished to look like luxury finds.

DIY Your Décor. Get crafty with simple DIY projects. For example:

- Use a canvas and some paint to create your own abstract artwork.
- Frame pages from old books or magazines for budget-friendly wall art.
- Transform mason jars into chic vases or storage containers with a coat of spray paint.

Mix High and Low. Splurge on one or two statement accessories, like a designer lamp or a handcrafted vase, and pair them with affordable pieces from stores like Target, IKEA, or HomeGoods. The contrast creates an elevated look without stretching your budget.

Opt for Timeless Textiles Swap out throw pillows, blankets, and curtains to refresh your space seasonally. Many budget-friendly retailers offer high-quality textiles that mimic more expensive designs. Stick to neutral or classic patterns to maximize longevity.

Repurpose What You Already Own. Sometimes, the best accessories are already in your home. Repurpose items like books, trays, or even kitchenware as décor. For example, stack colorful cookbooks on your kitchen counter or use a serving tray to display candles and small plants on your coffee table.

DESIGN TRICKS FOR A LUXE LOOK

Want your affordable accessories to look more expensive? Try these design tricks:

Play with Scale. Oversized accessories, like a large floor vase or a statement mirror, make a big impact and look more luxurious than smaller, cluttered items.

Stick to a Cohesive Color Palette. Accessories in a coordinated color scheme instantly feel more intentional and upscale. Metallics like gold or brass, along with rich hues like navy or emerald green, exude sophistication.

Embrace Symmetry. Symmetry creates balance and a sense of order, which is inherently pleasing to the eye. For example, place matching lamps on either side of a sofa or bed for a polished look.

Layer Textures. Combining textures like velvet, linen, glass, and wood adds richness and complexity. A faux fur throw over a leather armchair or a woven basket paired with ceramic planters can make even simple pieces feel high-end.

Group Accessories in Odd Numbers. Decorators often use the "rule of three" when arranging accessories. Group items in odd numbers and vary their heights to create visual interest.

ROOMS TO FOCUS ON

Certain rooms benefit more from accessorizing than others. Here's where to prioritize:

The Living Room

- Add throw pillows and a cozy blanket to the sofa.
- Style the coffee table with a tray, books, and a small sculpture.
- Hang a large piece of art or a gallery wall above the sofa.

The Bedroom

- Layer your bed with accent pillows and a textured throw.
- Use bedside table lamps for both function and style.
 - Incorporate personal touches, like framed photos or a small vase of flowers.

The Kitchen

- Display cutting boards, bowls of fresh fruit, or potted herbs on the counter.
- Use stylish containers for frequently used items like utensils or spices.

The Bathroom

- Roll towels neatly into baskets.
- Add a candle, a small plant, or decorative soap to the vanity.
- Hang a piece of artwork to liven up blank walls.

Accessories have the power to elevate your home's design while reflecting your personal style. By focusing on thoughtful choices, mixing high and low-end pieces, and utilizing affordable design tricks, you can create a space that feels luxurious and inviting without overspending.

Remember, accessorizing is an ongoing process. As you live in your space, your tastes may evolve, and that's okay! The beauty of accessories lies in their versatility—you can always update and rearrange them to keep your home feeling fresh and inspiring. To find more inspiration, browse the hundreds of booths at the Salt Lake Home Show. You'll find the perfect accessories, plus experts to help you create the perfect look for any room!
